Burglars Get Gems, Stocks From Safe

Widower Of Heiress Was Out To Dinner During Burglary

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A three-million-dollar safe burglary was reported today by sheriff's deputies.

Officers said the loot—jewelry and stocks—was taken Monday night from the home of retired broker Raoul Fernandez, 50, of West Hollywood.

He is the widower of Catherine Johnson Chandler Fernandez, whom officers described as an heiress to the Coca Cola fortune.

The haul consisted of approximately $1 million worth of jewelry and $2 million in stock of the soft drink firm, said Lt. Lee Bergman of the sheriff's detective bureau. He said the stock was non-negotiable.

The burglary took place while Fernandez, who lives alone, was out to dinner.

He came home about 11:30 p.m. to find a safe gone. There was no obvious means of entry, officers said.

The safe also contained deeds to real estate he owns in Atlanta, Ga., and Los Angeles as well as U.S. citizenship papers he obtained many years ago, said the Spanish-born, retired New York stockbroker.

He said he and his late wife, then a widow after a previous marriage, were wed 23 years ago in Miami, Fla. He said her late father was one of the founders of the Coca-Cola Co. in Atlanta, Ga.

Fernandez and his wife lived in the fashionable Los Angeles suburb of Bel-Air several years before her death.

He said he had very little insurance on the jewelry.

Disarmament Tops Crowded Agenda Of 99-Nation Group

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The United Nations' main Political Committee gets down to business today with disarmament slated for top priority on its crowded agenda.

The 99-nation group is expected to lead off with debate on rival East-West arms proposals as soon as it clears organization details.

Four separate disarmament questions have been placed in the committee hopper, highlighting the general feeling that this is the paramount issue before the current General Assembly.

The questions deal with Communist and Western arms proposals, suspension of nuclear tests, prevention of a wider dissemination of nuclear weapons, and the report of the Disarmament Commission.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev outlined his disarmament proposal before the General Assembly last Thursday. The United States, Britain and Italy swiftly countered with their own plan the following night.

Both drafts call for agreement on general and complete disarmament under international inspection and control. But there are three main differences:

1. The Khrushchev plan calls for quick conclusion of a treaty for general and complete disarmament, whereas the Western plan would have agreement first on arms measures capable of "early implementation."

2. The Soviet plan would make negotiations conditional on a revamping of the U.N. Secretariat with a three-man board replacing Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold.

3. The Western plan calls for more specific control requirements.

In an attempt to quiet the atmosphere stirred by Khrushchev's stormy stay, the Assembly gave unanimous approval Monday night to a 28-nation resolution urging constructive steps to achieve world peace.

'Numbers' Possession Charge Is Dismissed

A charge of possessing "numbers" slips filed against a Wellsville man was dismissed Monday in Municipal Court for lack of sufficient evidence.

Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark made the motion for dismissal of the charge against Larry L. Wilson, 342 Broadway, after conferring with Patrolman William Nott, who filed the affidavit.

Wilson was arrested early Saturday in the Bus Terminal on an intoxication charge. While being searched at police headquarters, the "numbers" slips were discovered. They were from out-of-town sources, officers said.

Mayor Airs Plan For 'Renaissance'

Mayor Bert H. Goodballet proposed a 7-point East Liverpool renaissance program to Council Monday night, asserting it will help the city maintain its position as the Tri-State area's major shopping center.

Key points proposed by the mayor include:

Floodlighting of shopping areas.

ACCELERATION of the program of acquiring conveniently located off-street parking lots.

Providing convenient access to the city via better highways and maintaining existing streets in a cleaner, smoother condition.

Promotion of a program of painting, modernizing and improvement in the business district.

Recognizing that the city does not have funds for expensive municipal programs, the mayor pointed out that none of his recommendations is "beyond our present resources."

Accepting the mayor's recommendations, which were made in a lengthy letter, Council extended an invitation to him to attend a caucus at the next session Nov. 7 in which the program can be discussed further. Meanwhile, Council committees were asked to begin study of the mayor's recommendations.

THE MAYOR'S letter also recommended: Upgrading the quality and number of street lights in residential areas; encouraging a citywide beautification program, and inviting the Board of Public Utilities to revise water and sewer rates "to set up a more equitable distribution of the costs of these services."

Action is imperative because retail sales in East Liverpool fell from $48,411,000 in 1957 to $44,036,000 in 1958 and dropped on down to $40,380,000 in 1959, the mayor said.

He pointed out that East Liverpool for many years has been "at the very top nationally in retail sales per capita."

Then he cited the declines in retail sales figures and added:

"Thus, in a 2-year period, retail sales dropped more than $8 million. To the average citizen not engaged in any branch of retail trade, the figure may not have any ominous significance. However, each one of us, regardless of our occupation, will feel in time the impact of our declining economy.

"THE FIRST and most obvious results will be a lessening of employment opportunities, higher retail prices as sales volume falls off, depreciation in real estate values, and inevitably, higher taxes for those left to share the tax burden," the mayor's letter added.

Then he pointed to the seven point program as a way of keeping East Liverpool in the forefront as a shopping center.

"Gloomy as the picture may be, we are fortunate to have in our hands the means to restore our city to its former status as the most desirable shopping center of the surrounding area," he said.

"Experience has proven that shoppers will go where they are offered easy access to clean, well-lighted streets, convenient parking and modern up-to-date stores. We as city officials have a key role to play in this renaissance. We must use the power vested in our various offices to encourage, as-

Inmates Free 3 Pen Guards Held 6 Hours

Released Unhurt As Patient-Convicts Give Themselves Up

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (AP)—Three guards were overpowered and held as hostages for more than six hours early today by convict-patients in the hospital ward of the Connecticut State Prison.

The guards were released unharmed when prison officials granted the convicts' demand for a conference with a lawyer and a state representative. The few convicts involved gave themselves up.

Two of the prisoners, Walter Doolittle and Peter Kinosh, conferred with attorney Roger Gleason and State Rep. Marshall N. Dudley. Gleason was Doolittle's lawyer in the past, and Dudley is a member of the legislature's committee on penal institutions.

After meeting with the prisoners, Dudley and Gleason said that apparently the whole thing was pointless.

They said neither prisoner presented any list of grievances during the 40-minute session.

Doolittle, they said, talked in a kind of distracted manner as if he were under the influence of a drug, reeling sleepily back and forth.

"I can't say what caused this thing," Gleason said. "I don't know. There was none of this business of 'We want better food' or anything like that."

"I don't feel that this was a situation that was an outgrowth or continuation of the last riot," said Dudley.

Doolittle is serving a term for armed robbery, escape and participation in a riot at the prison. Kinosh is serving a one-to-five year term.

Two of the prisoners brought the hostages down to a guard room where the lawyer and state representative were awaiting them.

A detail of state police was on standby duty at the prison.

Deputy Warden Richard Steinert said the guards were "a little shaky but, other than that, in good shape."

Steinert said the guards were seized shortly after midnight. He said the convicts apparently were under the influence of drugs obtained from hospital stores.

The uprising was staged by at least four convicts although there were about 20 convict-patients in the hospital ward at the time, prison officials said.

The three guards overpowered by the convicts were identified as James A. Ough, Theodore L. Carbone and Joseph Mikalson.

Carbone said he was taken hostage when a prisoner came up from behind and held a club next to his head.

Ough said two of the convicts were armed with sharpened butter knives.

Mikalson, asked how he had spent the time while in the hands of the convicts, replied: "I just kept quiet."

Two of the other convicts identified as participants in the outbreak were Louis Cofone and Robert Pache.

Driver Jailed After Missing Rail Crossing

$250 Fine, Term Given Wellsville Man In Broadway Crash

A 22-year-old Wellsville man was given a $250 fine and a 5-day jail term today in Municipal Court on a drunken driving charge filed Monday night after his auto missed the Broadway railroad crossing and went 30 feet onto the tracks.

Thomas R. Tippins, 402 Buckeye Ave., escaped unhurt in the mishap at 8:08, although the undercarriage of his 1957 auto was damaged and the left front wheel was torn off in the rough ride along the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. tracks, police said.

Tippins told police he was traveling west on the River Rd. and attempting to turn north across the crossing. Unfamiliar with the turn, he drove diagonally onto the tracks, halting about 30 feet south of the crossing on the westbound tracks, he said.

The gasoline tank of the auto ruptured as it was being removed

5 Of Hancock Taverns Cited In Boys' Case

Hearings are scheduled Thursday night before Squire Eugene Allison of Chester for operators of three Northern Hancock County taverns named in warrants obtained by Juvenile Officer William Paolisso on charges of selling intoxicating beverages to two 17-year-old boys.

In addition, hearings are expected to be set today by Squire John D. Herron at New Cumberland for two other county tavern owners also named in the warrants charging them with selling intoxicants to minors under 18.

The probation officer obtained the warrants against the tavern owners after a Newell boy, and another from Rochester, each 17, were arrested by county sheriff's deputies Sunday night.

Both were intoxicated, Paolisso said, and under questioning named five county taverns where they had purchased intoxicating beverages Saturday night. They were cited by deputies at 2 a. m. Sunday.

The hearings are scheduled for the owners of Club 66, Fannie's Bar in Chester, and Mary's Place in Newell, who will appear before Squire Allison Thursday night at 8.

Squire Herron of New Cumberland will hold hearings for the owners of the Sunset Inn on Route 2 and Bob's Bar on Route 30 in back of Chester.

The charge against Fannie's Bar is the second, Paolisso said today.

"If I can do anything to have the licenses of these five taverns revoked, I will do so because I have too much trouble in the northern end of the county with taverns selling intoxicants to minors," Paolisso said.

"The minors come into the places, and the owners don't ask for identification cards to determine if the purchaser is of legal age—they serve anybody who comes in the door," the probation officer added.

Paolisso said one of the youths was picked up by deputies in Newell and the other cited outside the Sunset Inn just before getting into his car.

They were being held in the County Jail in New Cumberland until Paolisso decides by what method they are to be prosecuted.

Man And Wife Are Injured In Blast At Home

Husband Burned, Wife In Shock After West End Explosion

An elderly West End man was burned and his wife was left in a state of shock when a blowtorch he was preparing to use touched off an explosion late Monday afternoon, blowing out windows and a basement door.

George Emmerling, 79, of 947 W. 8th St. was treated at City Hospital for burns of the hands, arms, legs, face and neck and his wife suffered from shock after the explosion ripped their home shortly before 4 p. m.

Firemen said Emmerling had been doing some plumbing work and was in the basement preparing to use a blowtorch. After filling the torch with gasoline and lighting it, the blast followed, blowing off an outside basement door and knocking glass out of several windows, including some on the second floor.

The exact cause of the explosion still hasn't been determined, firemen said. Representatives of the Ohio Valley Gas Co. were called to make a check.

Glass from the explosion littered the sidewalk and one lane of the four-lane highway before it was cleared by the street department.

Firemen said today residents should learn the location of fire alarm boxes.

A box is located just outside the Emmerling home, firemen said, but in the confusion neighbors called police. A cruiser was sent to investigate and then relayed the call to the fire department.

Mrs. Emmerling, suffering from shock, still was in the home when they arrived, firemen said.

Police received the telephoned report of the explosion at 3:51. Patrolmen Milton Fowler and William A. Devon arrived at the scene two minutes later.

Officer Devon said Emmerling was found in the basement of the home. He had ripped off his trousers, which were set ablaze in the explosion, but had donned another pair in the meantime. Police called an ambulance to remove him to the hospital.

Firemen blamed youngsters for turning in a false alarm from Box 126 Harvey and Myrtle Aves. shortly before 11 last night.

Solicitations To Be Started In Fund Drive

Campaign chairman William A. Black Monday outlined final plans for the 1960 Community Fund drive at a "dutch treat" luncheon for 14 division leaders and campaign officials at the Travelers Hotel.

With the goal $82,368, first solicitation will get under way this week when the Advance Gifts Division begins contacting some 150 larger donors.

"A 100 per cent participation by all residents of the area is to be the aim of this year's campaign," Black said in urging "thorough follow-up procedures" by all division chairmen.

"Every individual, every firm, must be contacted and given the opportunity to participate. The importance of thorough coverage to the final outcome of this campaign cannot be over-emphasized. We must tell everyone about the services of the six Agencies in the Community Fund — the Boy and Girl Scouts, the YMCA, Salvation Army, USO and the Recreation Council. We must explain their value to this area; we must point out that better than 95 per cent of this fund says right in our own community; and that our drive slogan, "United at Home to Help Our Own", is most sincerely meant. Each of the six agencies participating in the campaign has been investigated as to its budget needs and worthiness, and each is an organization in which we can take pride by lending our support."

Workers' kits and campaign supplies, such as donor lists and pledge cards, now are being prepared at campaign headquarters in the YMCA building under the direction of Carl Werner, campaign secretary.

Casey Stengel Is Out; Declares He Was Fired

NEW YORK (AP)—Casey Stengel said today he had been fired by the New York Yankees.

"I was told that my services no longer were required," the 70-year-old manager told a press conference. He said he was told it was because of his age.

Ike Says All Free Nations Must Resist Red Threat

DETROIT, Mich. (AP) — President Eisenhower says all free nations must share the burden of resisting the Red threat lest Communist propagandists "playing their Pied Piper's tune" make new inroads around the globe.

And on the domestic front, the President says the time has come for labor and mangement to conduct their affairs with ever increasing responsibility for national welfare, and that "no longer can this nation permit either group to drag its feet in adopting preventive measures for prompt settlement of industrial disputes."

Eisenhower expressed these views in a speech Monday night at the 43rd National Automobile Show dinner. Today he heads for Red Wing, Minn., and an address there at ceremonies dedicating the Hiawatha Bridge over the Mississippi River.

The scheduled visit to Red Wing is the President's second stop on a nine-day cross-country speaking tour which began Monday with the presidential campaign moving fast toward a climax. The White House says the 6,728-mile trip into six states, some of them with major blocs of electoral votes, is nonpolitical.

James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary, was asked by newsmen how he squared that label with the fact that the President conferred in Detroit Monday afternoon with a group of Michigan Republican candidates for Congress and state office.

"He (Eisenhower) was just meeting with a few Republicans," Hagerty replied with a smile.

In two Detroit speeches in advance of his address at the auto show dinner, the President cut loose at what he termed "evil propaganda" in the presidential campaign — propaganda which "attempts to degrade America."

He did not specify his target in informal talks at a civic reception where he was cheered by a crowd of about 10,000, and at luncheon of about 500 business and professional women.

But Hagerty said later the President's anger was directed against a leaflet distributed in a publication of the United Automobile Workers. Hagerty said the President had read about the leaflet in the Detroit News, which described

GOP Nominee Rejects 5th

Nixon-Kennedy Debate Friday Probably The Last

WASHINGTON (AP) — The fourth television debate between the presidential candidates Friday night probably will be the last of the campaign.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican candidate, Monday turned down a proposal by his opponent, Sen. John F. Kennedy, for a fifth debate. He blamed scheduling difficulties.

Although Kennedy asked Nixon to reconsider, there seemed little chance their representatives would agree on anything beyond the fourth joint appearance.

Instead, Nixon suggested changing the format of the fourth debate. First, he proposed extending it from one hour to two hours and, second, he suggested the candidates respond to questions from the public as well as questions from newsmen. But Kennedy rejected the whole idea.

Nixon's position on a fifth debate drew some barbed remarks from Kennedy. In Columbus, Ohio, Kennedy said: "I don't understand how anyone can stand up to (Soviet Premier) Khrushchev, can argue with Khrushchev, can put his finger in Khrushchev's face, but can't meet his Democratic opponent here in the United States."

A Nixon aide, Fred C. Scribner, gave this explanation for the vice president's rejection of a fifth debate: "The original agreement was for four debates and their dates and forms were arrived at by negotiations by the parties. To reach agreement, several concessions and campaign changes had to be made by both sides.

"Following the agreement, we then planned our campaign, including steps to visit 50 states. It has not been possible to change or cancel these plans at this time."

Burglars Get Gems, Stocks From Safe

Widower Of Heiress Was Out To Dinner During Burglary

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A three-million-dollar safe burglary was reported today by sheriff's deputies.

Officers said the loot—jewelry and stocks—was taken Monday night from the home of retired broker Raoul Fernandez, 56, of West Hollywood.

He is the widower of Catherine Johnson Chandler Fernandez, whom officers described as an heiress to the Coca Cola fortune.

The haul consisted of approximately $1 million worth of jewelry and $2 million in stock of the soft drink firm, said Lt. Lee Bergman of the sheriff's detective bureau. He said the stock was non-negotiable.

The burglary took place while Fernandez, who lives alone, was out to dinner.

He came home about 11:30 p.m. to find a safe gone. There was no obvious means of entry, officers said.

The safe also contained deeds to real estate he owns in Atlanta, Ga., and Los Angeles as well as U.S. citizenship papers he obtained many years ago, said the Spanish-born, retired New York stockbroker.

He said he and his late wife, then a widow after a previous marriage, were wed 23 years ago in Miami, Fla. He said her late father was one of the founders of the Coca-Cola Co. in Atlanta, Ga.

Fernandez and his wife lived in the fashionable Los Angeles suburb of Bel-Air several years before her death.

He said he had very little insurance on the jewelry.

Hearings are scheduled Thursday night before Squire Eugene Allison of Chester for operators of three Northern Hancock County taverns named in warrants obtained by Juvenile Officer William Paolisso on charges of selling intoxicating beverages to two 17-year-old boys.

In addition, hearings are expected to be set today by Squire John D. Herron at New Cumberland for two other county tavern owners also named in the warrants charging them with selling intoxicants to minors under 18.

The probation officer obtained the warrants against the tavern owners after a Newell boy, and another from Rochester, each 17, were arrested by county sheriff's deputies Sunday night.

The hearings are scheduled for the owners of Club 66, Fannie's Bar in Chester, and Mary's Place in Newell, who will appear before Squire Allison Thursday night at 8.

Squire Herron of New Cumberland will hold hearings for the owners of the Sunset Inn on Route 2 and Bob's Bar on Route 30 in back of Chester.

The charge against Fannie's Bar is the second, Paolisso said today.

"If I can do anything to have the licenses of these five taverns revoked, I will do so because I have too much trouble in the northern end of the county with taverns selling intoxicants to minors," Paolisso said.

"The minors come into the places, and the owners don't ask for identification cards to determine if the purchaser is of legal age—they serve anybody who comes in the door," the probation officer added.

Paolisso said one of the youths was picked up by deputies in Newell and the other cited outside the Sunset Inn just before getting into his car.

They were being held in the County Jail in New Cumberland until Paolisso decides by what method they are to be prosecuted.

Man And Wife Are Injured In Blast At Home

Husband Burned, Wife In Shock After West End Explosion

An elderly West End man was burned and his wife was left in a state of shock when a blowtorch he was preparing to use touched off an explosion late Monday afternoon, blowing out windows and a basement door.

George Emmerling, 79, of 967 W. 8th St. was treated at City Hospital for burns of the hands, arms, legs, face and neck and his wife suffered from shock after the explosion ripped their home shortly before 4 p. m.

Firemen said Emmerling had been doing some plumbing work and was in the basement preparing to use a blowtorch. After filling the torch with gasoline and lighting it, the blast followed, blowing off an outside basement door and knocking glass out of several windows, including some on the second floor.

The exact cause of the explosion still hasn't been determined, firemen said. Representatives of the Ohio Valley Gas Co. were called to make a check.

Glass from the explosion littered the sidewalk and one lane of the four-lane highway before it was cleared by the street department.

Firemen said today residents should learn the location of fire alarm boxes.

A box is located just outside the Emmerling home, firemen said, but in the confusion neighbors called police. A cruiser was sent to investigate and then relayed the call to the fire department.

Mrs. Emmerling, suffering from shock, still was in the home when they arrived, firemen said.

Police received the telephoned report of the explosion at 3:52. Patrolman Milton Fowler and William A. Devon arrived at the scene two minutes later.

Officer Devon said Emmerling was found in the basement of the home. He had ripped off his trousers, which were set ablaze in the explosion, but had doused another pair in the meantime. Police called an ambulance to remove him to the hospital.

Firemen blamed youngsters for turning in a false alarm from Box 126 Harvey and Myrtle Aves. shortly before 11 last night.

Solicitations To Be Started In Fund Drive

Campaign chairman William A. Black Monday outlined final plans for the 1960 Community Fund drive at a "dutch treat" luncheon for 34 division leaders and campaign officials at the Travelers Hotel.

With the goal $82,300, first solicitation will get under way this week when the Advance Gifts Division begins contacting some 130 larger donors.

"A 100 per cent participation by all residents of the area is to be the aim of this year's campaign," Black said in urging "thorough follow-up procedure" by all division chairmen.

"Every individual, every firm, must be contacted and given the opportunity to participate. The importance of thorough coverage to the final outcome of this campaign cannot be over-emphasized. We must tell everyone about the services of the six Agencies in the Community Fund — the Boy and Girl Scouts, the YMCA, Salvation Army, USO and the Recreation Council. We must explain their value to this area; we must point out that better than 95 per cent of this fund says right in our own community; and that our drive slogan, "United at Home to Help Our Own", is most sincerely meant. Each of the six agencies participating in the campaign has been investigated as to its budget needs and worthiness, and each is an organization in which we can take pride by lending our support."

Workers' kits and campaign supplies, such as donor lists and pledge cards, now are being prepared at campaign headquarters in the YMCA building under the direction of Carl Werner, campaign secretary.

GOP Nominee Rejects 5th

Nixon-Kennedy Debate Friday Probably The Last

WASHINGTON (AP) — The fourth television debate between the presidential candidates Friday night probably will be the last of the campaign.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican candidate, Monday turned down a proposal by his opponent, Sen. John F. Kennedy, for a fifth debate. He blamed scheduling difficulties.

Although Kennedy asked Nixon to reconsider, there seemed little chance their representatives would agree on anything beyond the fourth joint appearance.

Instead, Nixon suggested changing the format of the fourth debate. First, he proposed extending it from one hour to two hours and, second, he suggested the candidates "respond to questions from the public as well as questions from newsmen. But Kennedy rejected the whole idea.

Nixon's position on a fifth debate drew some barbed remarks from Kennedy. In Columbus, Ohio, Kennedy said: "I don't understand how anyone can stand up to (Soviet Premier) Khrushchev, can argue with Khrushchev, can put his finger in Khrushchev's face, but can't meet his Democratic opponent here in the United States."

A Nixon aide, Fred C. Scribner, gave the explanation for the vice president's rejection of a fifth debate: "The original agreement was for four debates and their dates and forms were arrived at by negotiations by the parties. To reach agreement, several concessions and campaign changes had to be made by both sides.

"Following the agreement, we then planned our campaign, including stops to visit 50 states. It has not been possible to change or cancel these plans at this time."

Report Meeting Held

Midland Reaches Halfway Mark In Fund Campaign

Midland area's United Fund campaign is progressing satisfactorily and has reached its halfway mark with some $21,000 obtained in donations and pledges, Charles Schmitt, chairman, said Monday night.

Divisional chairmen listed results at a first report meeting last night in Lincoln High School.

The area's goal is $37,973 and will help support some 23 Beaver County and 2 local area health, welfare and character building agencies during 1961.

Schmitt, also manufacturing and utilities chairman, commended the solicitation of employes at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., declaring it is better than in past years and the United Steelworkers Union has helped considerably. Solicitation is about 60 per cent completed.

At the Mackintosh-Hemphill Division of the E. W. Bliss Co., solicitation was reported 90 per cent completed. Schmitt said that many firms and individuals are giving more, even doubling what they gave last year. Money given or pledged by employes is given to the fund organizations in their towns.

Solicitation of construction firms was reported 20 per cent completed, professional people 80 per cent, banks 95 per cent, auto dealers 100 per cent, barbers and beauticians 50 per cent, schools 90 per cent and residential 10 per cent.

Reports of other phases of the campaign are expected later this week. The announcement of Crucible's corporate gift is expected soon.

The campaign committee plans to award "oscars," small United Fund statues, to outstanding campaign workers and also to groups and mill departments which give 100 per cent.

Rating an "oscar" thus far are several departments at Crucible and the First National Bank which has made a corporate gift and whose employes have contributed.

The Beaver office of the United Fund of Beaver County is making a list of all campaign workers who will be asked to attend the campaign's final report meeting. They will be served refreshments.

Divisional chairman will meet Monday at 8 p. m. in the Music Forum of the high school and set a final report meeting.

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP) — Sheriff C. R. Burns says cattle rustled in Scioto, Pike and Highland counties have been traced to the farm rented by Walter McClain, 56, near Maysville, Ky. Group Fights Zoning Plans

About 60 Greene Township citizens attended a meeting Monday evening of the Board of Supervisors and opposed any zoning of the township.

William Moore of the Beaver County Planning and Zoning Commission attended. Citizens and supervisors agreed that Moore should return to Beaver and the citizens would invite him to a meeting when they feel a need for zoning.

Citizens contend they have no industry to raise additional taxes to pay for their half of the zoning, and also, the township is paying a share of the cost of South Side schools.

Supervisors met at the home of John Mercer, secretary and treasurer. Moore had planned to outline zoning plans.

Residents said they were not informed of the meeting, it was reported and supervisors were surprised at their attendance. James Stewart asked that minutes of the previous meeting be read. They were not read since supervisors did not have them, it was reported.

Mrs. Marie Graham, democratic committeewoman, invited Moore to address the citizens on zoning. He refused, explaining he was prepared only to talk to the supervisors, it was reported.

Clayton Conkle made a motion that the zoning question be shelved. It was seconded but not recognized by the chairman.

Holdup Case Slated For Supreme Court

LISBON — Counsel for James Maris, 21, of Warren, serving a term in the Ohio State Penitentiary for armed robbery, advised Prosecutor G. William Brokaw today that he will take the case to the Ohio Supreme Court.

Atty. Francis X. Diana of Warren filed notice after the 7th District Court of Appeals refused to act. Atty. Diana claimed mistaken identity in the trial.

Edmund Maris, 31, of Niles, wanted for the same offense, escaped from the Freeport (Ill.) jail and has not been apprehended. The brothers were indicted for a Salem district motel robbery last December.

by a wrecker. Firemen were called at 8:45 to flush away the spilled gasoline.

Tippins also was charged with driving without an operator's permit, but Judge Samuel M. Chertoff continued the hearing pending study of a Navy-issued license which Tippins was carrying.

Tippins explained he was released from the service last spring and still holds a vehicle operator's permit that is valid until 1961. He said he recently obtained an Ohio temporary instruction permit, prelude to obtaining a driver's license, but the registrar told him the Navy license would be valid, meanwhile.

The judge said he will investigate the validity of the Navy permit, but added: "In my opinion, it is worthless except if you are operating a govermnment vehicle."

Another motorist was cited as an aftermath of a collision on St. Clair Ave. near Walnut St. Monday at 11:50 a. m.

James Bowen, 49, of 405 Azalea Ave. was charged with failure to transfer the license plates to a recently-purchased 1960 auto. He was cited after a collision involving his car and a 1956 model operated by Richard Chamberlain, 28, of Dixonville.

Judge Chertoff fined Bowen $25 and costs, but suspended the fine on payment of the $6 costs after Bowen proved he had transferred the registration since being cited. Police said Chamberlain halted for an auto which was making a left turn into Gaston Pl. and the Dixonville man's car was hit from the rear by Bowen's.

Two minor mishaps were reported yesterday.

A 1960 sedan owned by Sylvester Farrar, 1227 St. Clair Ave., was hit by an unknown vehicle while it was parked on Washington St. between 10:30 and 11:30 p. m., police said. The right front door was damaged.

While backing out of the parking lot alongside City Hall Monday at 10:30 p. m., an auto driven by Grayce Bourne, 425 Jefferson St., Newell, bumped a parked 1959 car owned by George Myers, 1839 Ohio Ave., police said. There was damage to a tail light of the woman's car and the left rear fender of the Myers auto, police said.

Firemen Called In Trailer Blaze After Meeting

Newell volunteer firemen responded to an alarm at the Midway Trailer Court on Route 66 following their regular meeting earlier in the fire station.

Fourteen men answered the alarm to the trailer court where excess oil in a heating unit was blamed for a small fire in the vent. Neighbors who noticed the smoke called firemen. There was no damage.

At the meeting, Earl Flesch and Keith Lamp were initiated as new members. Dick Rayburn, president, presided.

Earl Cordray, assistant chief, presented a report on fire drills held at Wells High School and Jefferson Elementary school Friday in connection with Fire Prevention Week.

High school students were cleared from the building in 40 seconds, and the grade school was emptied in 65 seconds for a "very good" fire drill, Cordray reported.

He added that both schools were found in compliance with fire regulations after an inspection. Principal Ernest John of Jefferson and Principal E. Russell Slack of Wells High were thanked for their cooperation in the fire drills.

The next meeting is Nov. 7 at 6:30 p. m. in the fire station. Firemen also attended a training school in Midland Saturday.

Case Of Circumstantial Evidence

Another National Newspaper Week is under way. This annual event has special meaning in a national election year.

The connection between newspapers and political freedom is close and indissoluble. Politicians do not care for the connection. They like the press when it agrees with them, but they usually don't like it when it disagrees with them. Politicians want to protect freedom on their own terms, which aren't always the terms of the free men whose freedom needs protecting.

Neither do newspaper readers like the press when it disagrees with them, when they complain that this is an abuse of freedom of the press — when a newspaper disagrees with them in politics — they are saying in effect they do not believe in freedom of the press at all. They just believe in being free to use it for their own purposes.

The test is whether people believe in the right of someone else to express an opinion they hate. That was Voltaire's test of sincerity, and it's a good one.

Newspapers in the United States consistently make room in their pages for statements they do not agree with. They bend over backward to make certain that all sides of every issue get a hearing. And in many instances, newspaper people know while they are being fair that if things went sour they would be the first ones to be denied an even break by the same people clamoring for their rights.

The strongest case of circumstantial evidence that can be made to show why politicians aren't enthusiastic about freedom of the press is what invariably happens when a dictator takes over the government of a once free country.

His first move is to get rid of all newspapers that will not take his orders and shape the news to suit him.

If he cannot dictate to the press, he abolishes it.

That is evidence of the indissoluble tie between political freedom and newspapers.

The purpose of National Newspaper Week is to encourage people to learn more about this agency of communication and freedom. Every aspect of the newspaper business is gone into during the week, in the hope that more people may take time to understand why it is a privilege to live in a republic that prohibits politicians from telling the press what it cannot do but gives the press wide sanction to tell politicians what they should not do.

This is one of its many fascinations for those who make careers of newspapering. But it is the thing that sets newspapering apart from other communication media that can be licensed and controlled by politicians. The press isn't licensed. It is answerable only to its readers.

Prestige Must Be Earned

Whatever Dwight Eisenhower's role in world events may be after he leaves office next January, his prestige as an international figure will be secure.

He will be in the same class as Britain's Winston Churchill, who towered high in the eyes of his generation even though shelved by politics at home.

To make a comparison with his own countrymen, Dwight Eisenhower will be in his time and place what Herbert Hoover was and still is and what Harry Truman still is to millions abroad who identify him with the Truman Doctrine.

If Richard Nixon is elected to the presidency and persuades his former chief's consent to become a roving ambassador for the United States, it would be a logical arrangement.

Mr. Truman, when he was president, called on Mr. Hoover to lend his international prestige to the furtherance of American interests. President Eisenhower would have called on Mr. Truman, had not the latter's irascible temper caused him to insult his successor by questioning his sincerity and fntelligence.

MEN AND NATIONS earn prestige by deeds. They command respect for what they do. They can ask others to take them at their word only if their word has been trustworthy. Their good intentions will be taken for granted if they never have given the lie to them by betraying their friends.

Dwight Eisenhower's personal prestige has been an important American asset since World War II. He is a popular and respected figure in every part of the world—so popular, so respected that Communists staged riots in Japan to keep him from coming there and forbade him to visit in Russia lest he be too popular.

It is unfortunate that in the 1960 presidential campaign the candidate and the party seeking control of the White House have thought they had to smear President Eisenhower to improve their chances.

THE PRESIDENT'S personal friends among the leaders of the free world and his millions of admirers, to whatever extent they hear about this unsavory tactic, must be puzzled. But their esteem for Dwight Eisenhower will not be lowered.

He has earned his prestige. His reputation is not in the balance, nor is it in the making. It is secure.

If it turns out in the ebb and flow of the 1960 election that he could carry on his personal crusade for peace as a special ambassador under Richard Nixon, the United States could conserve one of its most precious assets.

Macmillan Ready To Go Again

Britain's Harold Macmillan seems bent on launching a new campaign to promote another summit conference.

With the dogged determination deemed to be a special personality trait of the British, he appears ready to set out all over again on that long, tortuous trail he has traveled before to no avail in terms of world peace.

He will need determination, for he stands pretty much alone at the moment. And there is good reason he stands alone. Other leaders who might participate in a summit conference are reluctant to join him, and they appear to be supported by thir constituencies, who have had enough disillusionment for the time being.

"It's no good crying over spilt summits," Mr. Macmillan remarked gaily.

That is true, but there is little good to be gained from ignoring the experience of past summit meetings, either.

The Geneva one of 1955 took place, but produced nothing in the way of international peace that was solid enough to endure beyong a couple of months. When the "spirit of Geneva" faded in the atmosphere of Kremlin growling, only bitter disillusionment was left.

The Paris summit of 1960 never even took place. Some people had predicted it would bring the same result as Geneva of 1955, but the wooing of Nikita Khrushchev, enhanced by the political wiles of Mr. Macmillan, raised enough hopes to bring about the arrangements for it. When it collapsed without getting started, the disillusionment was even more devastating.

The only advice that can be offered to Mr. Macmillan as he plugs anew for a summit conference is becoming trite with repetition: A summit conference will be fruitful only when Communists want something other than world domination.

If that day ever comes, the Communists will be able to prove it in a multitude of ways that will make a summit conference unnecessary.

Until that day comes, fredom's hopes and communism's hopes are so far apart that meeting face to face physically cannot possibly bring them closer together spiritually.

If a summit conference cannot accomplish that, what's the use of holding it?

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

"Don't you hit me again," the wife snapped.

"Don't let it bother you," her husband replied. "Remember I am a man of peace."

"You have been slugging me for three weeks," the missus insisted, "with no excuse whatever."

"It amazes me that you are the type of person who doesn't know, as the whole world knows, that I stand firmly for complete friendship," said the husband, pounding on the table.

"Husbands who never cease claiming that they are champions of sweetness and light shouldn't sock their wives," the little woman argued, as she dodged a straight left.

"I warn you to stop dodging my punches," roared the husband. "It is a typical capitalistic routine and I am sure you are an imperialist by breeding and background. It is wives like you who, by failing to appreciate the new trend in global relationships, cause widespread disorders and threats to world peace." He now threw a metal bookend at the wife. (She wished she had a gavel.)

He heaved a table at her.

"Don't do that," she cried. "Why not? I am turning them out like sausages," he yelled.

"You are a brute," cried the wife, as she warded off a chairleg.

"Fawning lackey of imperialists! Troublemaker! Enemy of brotherhood! Foe of peace-loving people whose goals are appreciated everywhere," shouted the husband, chasing her behind the piano.

She crawled under a couch, peeked out at him, and ducked back swiftly. HE WAS TAKING OFF HIS SHOE!

LOOKING BACK at series it would seem Pittsburgh won through signs reading: "YANKS, NO; PITTSBURGH, YES."

Trouble was that while Yanks played at times as if on our side, they too often acted like neutralist bloc.

Anybody who takes off his shoe as he argues with an Irishman is not looking for world peace. Would you say that, "pound for pound," Khrushchev is the world's best orator?

Red Skelton can be funny but too often he drops down to the cheapest routines and gags of ancient burlesque circuits. Big difference is that the burlesque comedians couldn't excuse it on the ground they had too many writers.

New York is to get a 448-room skyscraper Motor Hotel with three floors for automobiles. Who ever dreamed of day when your auto could get a reservation for room and bath?

Millions of Americans are in bed with nervous breakdowns. World series, U.N. disorders and political debates were too much for them.

It is against the law to use a photographic reproduction of U. S. currency in advertising. In a few cases, the Treasury Department has granted special permission for educational purposes.

Inked-Out Word Causes Confusion

By Victor Riesel

This is the story of a missing word which could affect the presidential race. It is a word inked out of the text of a speech delivered by Sen. John Kennedy on Oct. 9, 1959, at the Twin Coaches Inn on Route 51, Fayette City, Pa. The talk was made during the bitter steel industry cold war — the 116-day strike.

Victor Riesel

It is this missing word which is the key to the angry wrangling between Mr. Nixon and Mr. Kennedy during the third debate.

The vice president charged that the senator had been for compulsory arbitration — which would mean government fixing of prices as well as wages after a long national strike.

The vice president said that the senator had taken that position in October 1959. The fact is that Jack Kennedy is opposed to compulsory arbitration.

Some researcher on Mr. Nixon's staff has misinformed him. It is, perhaps, not the researcher's fault. He may have gotten an unedited version of the mimeographed speech.

THE OFFICIAL TEXT had the following to say about powers to be granted the presidnt:

"These measures should include mediation, fact-finding, seizure . . . arbitration, injunctions with or without retroactive clauses and the right not to interfere at all."

Where I have placed the dots in this quote is an inked out word. That word is "compulsory." It was deleted from Mr. Kennedy's talk to the Washington County Democratic dinner.

The word was omitted in the delivery of the speech. Thus the version passed on to Mr. Nixon gave him the impression that Mr. Kennedy stood for the toughest government control of labor and management.

The outburst of anger over this misinformation is understandable and unfortunate, for it made hazy a more important cleavage.

That is the contenders' sharp difference over giving the president of the U.S. the power to seize a struck company or industry.

THAT IS THE ISSUE—and not compulsory arbitration, which both men oppose and which, I believe, has no real chance ever of passing Congress.

The Republican nominee says he is against seizure.

The Democratic nominee is for presidential power to take over a struck industry as Harry Truman did in the 1952 steel strike.

This would mean running the American flag over the steel mills or coal mines, or electrical and defense facilities. Men would be sworn in as government officials and put into the executive suites.

These might be Army officers or simply the company executives themselves, doing their old jobs but with the federal government as "boss."

It would be up to the president of the U.S. to set wage rates, prices, production and working conditions.

The general thinking in circles close to Mr. Kennedy which are for seizure is to have the president act on the recommendations—loudly and publicly made—of an impartial fact-finding board.

The president would run the industry until the union and the company made peace. The union would have to send its men back to work.

THE SENATOR would make this seizure power one of five or six "weapons" in presidential bands. He would use it only in an emergency.

First he is for mediation, voluntary arbitration and the intense glare of public scrutiny. As he told this column last summer after the nomination:

"We also need new methods for bringing the public interest to bear upon the bargaining between management and labor. In the past collective bargaining has been highly creative in devising procedures for providing industrial justice while also meeting industrial needs. . . ."

Basically Mr. Kennedy's real weapon is presidential seizure when a strike cripples a national industry.

That is the issue.

A Cautious Campaign

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

The presidential candidates are making this the most cautious campaign in recent history.

They might have started a fire long ago if there weren't some sensitive things they had to worry about.

Take Sen. John F. Kennedy, who criticizes America's defenses, says it has lost prestige, and is lagging economically.

All these are criticisms of President Eisenhower's two administrations. But Kennedy is careful not to tear into Eisenhower personally.

Asked why, Kennedy said he has great respect for the President and that his criticisms are after all aimed at his administration.

But there's a sound reason why the senator is laying off the President himself. It might cost him votes because Eisenhower is still so highly popular—so much so that he could probably beat either Kennedy or Vice President Richard M. Nixon if he were running against them right now.

Nixon has some problems of his own to worry about—more than Kennedy, perhaps — but certainly enough to keep him from pulling out all the stops.

In the first place, there are more registered Democrats than Republicans.

He has to hold the Republicans but can't win with them alone. He has to appeal to independents and some Democrats too.

He has obliquely criticized the administration on some things, but very obliquely. He has praised its record highly but at the same time says a record is something not to stand on but to build on.

He has two things to worry about inside his own party, which may explain why he sounds less liberal than Kennedy but not so conservative as Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, the darling of the party's extreme right wing.

Nixon can't afford to sound too conservative without antagonizing liberal Republicans. And he can't sound too liberal without inducing the Goldwater platoons, who wouldn't vote for a Democrat, to stay home election day.

So Nixon and Kennedy have to tip-toe a bit while giving the appearance of running to a fire. If anything, Nixon has to be more cautious than Kennedy.

His dilemma showed up sharply when his vice presidential running mate, Henry Cabot Lodge, got loose in Harlem and sounded off on the subject of Negroes.

He said it would be a "wonderful thing to have a qualified Negro in the Cabinet."

This might have appeal for Northern Negroes but hardly for white Southerners at a time when Nixon is hoping the Democratic platform, with its very liberal civil rights plank, might drive Southern states into his camp.

Although Nixon himself has been pretty forthright both in the South and in the North in saying improvement in civil rights is necessary, he tried to soft-pedal Lodge's exuberance.

He thought it important enough to issue a statement saying his Cabinet selections would depend on a man's ability and not on his race or creed.

Both Nixon and Kennedy are anxious for that Southern vote. Nixon has sent Lodge into Dixie, besides going there himself. Kennedy has gone there, too, and has sent his running mate Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas barnstorming the Southern acres.

If there's one slogan the candidates in this campaign carry around in their heads at all time and in all places it probably would be this one: caution.

Debate Shortcoming

By David Lawrence

Island Question Doesn't Belong There

The debate on television between the two presidential candidates may be spectacular but, as a device for really informing the voter about the meaning of what the speakers are saying, it is confusing and inadequate. The people are not given the background of the issues.

David Lawrence

What should the audience have been told, for example, to enable people to understand the Quemoy and Matsu issue?

It isn't too late to bring to their attention essential facts.

Here are some of them:

On Oct. 1 Sen. Kennedy, when being interviewed in a feature show on television at his home, was asked this question:

"Do you agree, Sen. Kennedy, with the present policy, in which it seems to me we are committed now to the defense of the tiny offshore islands off the coast of China —Quemoy and Matsu?"

Now, the fact is the United States has never been committed to the defense of those two islands at all times but only to their defense if related to an attack on Formosa.

THE ISLANDS have been continuously bombarded for five years without American intervention.

The policy of the United States, as laid down in a resolution passed by Congress by an overwhelming vote of both political parties, declined to define the line of defense exactly but purposely left it undefined.

Sen. Kennedy, however, in his answer to the above question, said he would change the existing policy laid down by the President and Congress. He said: "I have always thought that that was an unwise place to draw the line."

When the second round of the "great debate" was held on Oct. 7, the audience wasn't told that Sen. Kennedy would reverse the doctrine which the President, the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff and the majority of both houses of Congress had adopted in 1955.

"The interrogator referred to the Oct. 1 statement, and then Sen. Kennedy repeated his view as follows.

"I believe that if you're going to get into war for the defense of Formosa, it ought to be on a clearly defined line. . . . As long as they (Quemoy and Matsu) are not essential to the defense of Formosa, it's been my judgment ever since 1954 at the time of the Eisenhower doctrine for the Far East that our line should be drawn in the sea around the island (Formosa) itself."

ON THIS, Mr. Nixon commented immediately: "Now, as far as Quemoy and Matsu are concerned, the question is not these two little pieces of real estate—they are unimportant. . . .it's the principle involved.

"These two islands are in the area of freedom. The Nationalists have these two islands.

"We should not force our Nationalist allies to get off of them and give them to the Communists. If we do that, we start a chain reaction because the Communists aren't after Quemoy and Matsu. They're after Formosa."

In the third round of the "debate"—on Oct. 13—the two candidates defined their positions again in substantially the same way.

Mr. Nixon said that he would not change the Eisenhower policy, which specifically declines to define the exact line of defense.

Sen. Kennedy, on the other hand, reiterated that he would do so. He added that President Eisenhower in a letter to Theodore Green, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee had not insisted on the defense of Quemoy and Matsu.

The television audience couldn't get the significance of that brief quotation unless it also knew the background of the Eisenhower policy. Thus, Mr. Eisenhower wrote on Oct. 5, 1958, to Sen. Green:

"Neither you nor any other American need feel the United States will be involved in military hostilities merely in defense of Quemoy or Matsu."

The key word is "merely." When Sen. Kennedy read that quotation over the air in the Oct. 13 "debate," how many persons in the audience caught the meaning of that single word?

BOTH HOUSES of Congress had this issue up in January 1955 and efforts were made by a minority to draw the line and keep Quemoy and Matsu out of the defense area.

Sen. Kennedy was in that minority group. The Senate, however, by a vote of 74 to 13 rejected any further definition.

The resolution, as finally approved—by an 85-3 vote in the Senate and by a big majority in the House—declares that the president is authorized to use our armed forces "as he deems necessary for the specific purpose of securing and protecting Formosa and the Pescadores against armed attack, this authority to include the securing and protection of such related positions and territories of that area now in friendly hands and the taking of such other measures as he judges to be required or appropriate in assuring the defense of Formosa and Pescadores."

To say now that "related positions" must be abandoned and will not be defended is to serve notice that the United States has changed its position.

Why should a military judgment or decision of this kind be made anyway in a television "debate" in the middle of a political campaign?

Wouldn't it be better to let the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff determine such questions and let the president make a final decision on the basis of all the facts available at the time, including the damage which could be done psychologically to Nationalist China, the Philippines, South Korea and other areas with whose peoples the United States is allied?

If you have to fight an enemy, why tell him in advance exactly how you will fight him?

How can the average listener judge a complex question of this kind by watching a TV debate?

The answer is that he cannot and that this type of controversy doesn't belong in a political campaign either.

So-o-o Comfortable

By Truman Twill

In a little while, everything else will have gone to sleep.

Summer daylight is being turned off.

The leaf blanket is being pulled up around the earth's shoulders for another long rest.

There is a last-minute scurrying to get ready for what's ahead—to find just the right place. Squirrels are making themselves snug. And groundhogs and chipmunks.

Those battered bodies on the highways that motorists try not to run over with cruel wheels—those are mostly possums that lost their way. Possums aren't bright. They're the oldest species extant in an unbroken line of descent from very ancient times, but they're not bright. There's a moral in that. Bright guys go to the showers first, maybe.

Men are brighter than all get-out, which is why they step up their scurrying rate and dying rate too when summer ends. Each year-end as winter begins, men band together to make big plans for the things they hope to do before spring.

It is a kind of whistling in the darkness, in the hope that if everybody is noisy no one will notice how still it is outside—how still and how lifeless.

One by one, all the living companions of mankind allied more with nature than with men either go away, or nod themselves to sleep. Finally, nothing is left awake except the chickadees that have flown down from the Arctic and hardy hangers on like cardinals, crows, rabbits, pheasants and starlings.

All the flowers go, even the roses, marigolds and chrysanthemums that are the last to give up.

It is a time to build fires and sit in front of them with dogs and cats to share the warmth.

It is a time to draw together in the encompassing darkness for the companionship that accounts for the odd fact that only in the cold zones has there been progress away from the savagery that is the curse of the human race.

Not long from now will come the winter solstice, when men will hide their helplessness with a show of jollity called Christmas and New Year.

After that, things will get better. Light and warmth will come back, day by day. Grass will gather strength for another healing of scars. Trees will stir. Seeds will fulfill their promise of eternal life, and one day it will be spring again.

Sleepy animals will open their eyes and get busy with their destinies. Man will relax from winter-long effort. They will dream of everything about the good old summertime that strikes them as infinitely better than anything about the bad old wintertime.

Too bad, isn't it, that all of us cannot curl up with the chipmunks and stay asleep until May? It would be so-o-o comfortable. . .

Thirty-one states and the District of Columbia have individual income taxes; 19 withhold all or part of the tax from wages and salaries. A 20th will begin to do so next year.

"I warn you to stop dodging my punches," roared the husband. "It is a typical capitalistic routine and I am sure you are an imperialist by breeding and background. It is wives like you who, by failing to appreciate the new trend in global relationships, cause widespread disorders and threats to world peace." He now threw a metal bookend at the wife. (She wished she had a gavel.)

He heaved a table at her.

"Don't do that," she cried. "Why not? I am turning them out like sausages," he yelled.

"You are a brute," cried the wife, as she warded off a chairleg.

"Fawning lackey of imperialists! Troublemaker! Enemy of brotherhood! Foe of peace-loving people whose goals are appreciated everywhere," shouted the husband, chasing her behind the piano.

She crawled under a couch, peeked out at him, and ducked back swiftly. HE WAS TAKING OFF HIS SHOE!

LOOKING BACK at series it would seem Pittsburgh won through signs reading "YANKS, NO; PITTSBURGH, YES."

Trouble was that while Yanks played at times as if on our side, they too often acted like neutralist bloc.

Anybody who takes off his shoe as he argues with an Irishman is not looking for world peace. Would you say that, "pound for pound," Khrushchev is the world's best orator?

Red Skelton can be funny but too often he drops down to the cheapest routines and puns of ancient burlesque circuits. Big difference is that the burlesque comedians couldn't excuse it on the ground they had too many writers.

New York is to get a 44-room skyscraper Motor Hotel with three floors for automobiles. Who ever dreamed of day when your auto could get a reservation for room and bath?

Millions of Americans are in bed with nervous breakdowns. World series, U.N. disorders and political debates were too much for them.

Inked-Out Word Causes Confusion

By Victor Riesel

This is the story of a missing word which could affect the presidential race. It is a word inked out of the text of a speech delivered by Sen. John Kennedy on Oct. 9, 1950, at the Twin Coaches Inn on Route 51, Fayette City, Pa. The talk was made during the bitter steel industry cold war — the 116-day strike.

Victor Riesel

It is this missing word which is the key to the angry wrangling between Mr. Nixon and Mr. Kennedy during the third debate.

The vice president charged that the senator had been for compulsory arbitration — which would mean government fixing of prices as well as wages after a long national strike.

The vice president said that the senator had taken that position in October 1950. The fact is that Jack Kennedy is opposed to compulsory arbitration.

Some researcher on Mr. Nixon's staff has misinformed him. It is, perhaps, not the researcher's fault. He may have gotten an unedited version of the mimeographed speech.

THE OFFICIAL TEXT had the following to say about powers to be granted the president:

"These measures should include mediation, fact-finding, seizure . . . arbitration, injunctions with or without retroactive clauses and the right not to interfere at all."

Where I have placed the dots in this quote is an inked out word. That word is "compulsory." It was deleted from Mr. Kennedy's talk to the Washington County Democratic dinner.

The word was omitted in the delivery of the speech. Thus the version passed on to Mr. Nixon gave him the impression that Mr. Kennedy stood for the toughest government control of labor and management.

The outburst of anger over this misinformation is understandable and unfortunate, for it made hazy a more important cleavage.

That is the contenders' sharp difference over giving the president of the U.S. the power to seize a struck company or industry.

THAT IS THE ISSUE—and not compulsory arbitration, which both men oppose and which, I believe, has no real chance ever of passing Congress.

The Republican nominee says he is against seizure.

The Democratic nominee is for presidential power to take over a struck industry as Harry Truman did in the 1952 steel strike.

This would mean running the American flag over the steel mills or coal mines, or electrical and defense facilities. Men would be sworn in as government officials and put into the executive suites.

These might be Army officers or simply the company executives themselves, doing their old jobs but with the federal government as "boss."

It would be up to the president of the U.S. to set wage rates, prices, production and working conditions.

The general thinking in circles close to Mr. Kennedy which are for seizure is to have the president act on the recommendations—loudly and publicly made—of an impartial fact-finding board.

The president would run the industry until the union and the company made peace. The union would have to send its men back to work.

THE SENATOR won't make this seizure power one of five or six "weapons" in presidential hands. He would use it only in an emergency.

First he is for mediation, voluntary arbitration and the intense glare of public scrutiny. As he told this column last summer after the nomination:

"We also need new methods for bringing the public interest to bear upon the bargaining between management and labor. In the past collective bargaining has been highly creative in devising procedures for providing industrial justice while also meeting industrial needs. . . ."

Basically Mr. Kennedy's real weapon is presidential seizure when a strike cripples a national industry.

That is the issue.

A Cautious Campaign

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

The presidential candidates are making this the most cautious campaign in recent history.

They might have started a fire long ago if there weren't some sensitive things they had to worry about.

Take Sen. John F. Kennedy, who criticizes America's defenses, says it has lost prestige, and is lagging economically.

All these are criticisms of President Eisenhower's two administrations. But Kennedy is careful not to tear into Eisenhower personally.

Asked why, Kennedy said he has great respect for the President and that his criticisms are after all aimed at his administration.

But there's a sound reason why the senator is laying off the President himself. It might cost him votes because Eisenhower is still so highly popular—so much so that he could probably beat either Kennedy or Vice President Richard M. Nixon if he were running against them right now.

Nixon has some problems of his own to worry about—more than Kennedy, perhaps — but certainly enough to keep him from pulling out all the stops.

In the first place, there are more registered Democrats than Republicans.

He has to hold the Republicans but can't win with them alone. He has to appeal to independents and some Democrats too.

He has obliquely criticized the administration on some things, but very obliquely. He has praised its record highly but at the same time says a record is something not to stand on but to build on.

He has two things to worry about inside his own party, which may explain why he sounds less liberal than Kennedy but not so conservative as Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, the darling of the party's extreme right wing.

Nixon can't afford to sound too conservative without antagonizing liberal Republicans. And he can't sound too liberal without inducing the Goldwater platoons, who wouldn't vote for a Democrat, to stay home election day.

So Nixon and Kennedy have to tip-toe a bit while giving the appearance of running to a fire. If anything, Nixon has to be more cautious than Kennedy.

His dilemma showed up sharply when his vice presidential running mate, Henry Cabot Lodge, got loose in Harlem and sounded off on the subject of Negroes.

He said it would be a "wonderful thing to have a qualified Negro in the Cabinet."

This might have appeal for Northern Negroes but hardly for white Southerners at a time when Nixon is hoping the Democratic platform, with its very liberal civil rights plank, might drive Southern states into his camp.

Although Nixon himself has been pretty forthright both in the South and in the North in saying improvement in civil rights is necessary, he tried to soft-pedal Lodge's exuberance.

He thought it important enough to issue a statement saying his Cabinet selections would depend on a man's ability and not on his race or creed.

Both Nixon and Kennedy are anxious for that Southern vote. Nixon has sent Lodge into Dixie, besides going there himself. Kennedy has gone there, too, and has sent his running mate Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas barnstorming the Southern acres.

If there's one slogan the candidates in this campaign carry around in their heads at all time and in all places it probably would be this one: caution.

Debate Shortcoming

By David Lawrence

Island Question Doesn't Belong There

The debate on television between the two presidential candidates may be spectacular but, as a device for really informing the voter about the meaning of what the speakers are saying, it is confusing and inadequate. The people are not given the background of the issues.

David Lawrence

What should the audience have been told, for example, to enable people to understand the Quemoy and Matsu issue?

It isn't too late to bring to their attention essential facts.

Here are some of them:

On Oct. 1 Sen. Kennedy, when being interviewed in a feature show on television at his home, was asked this question:

"Do you agree, Sen. Kennedy, with the present policy, in which it seems to me we are committed now to the defense of the tiny offshore islands off the coast of China —Quemoy and Matsu?"

Now, the fact is the United States has never been committed to the defense of those two islands at all times but only to their defense if related to an attack on Formosa.

THE ISLANDS have been continuously bombarded for five years without American intervention.

The policy of the United States, as laid down in a resolution passed by Congress by an overwhelming vote of both political parties, declined to define the line of defense exactly but purposely left it undefined.

Sen. Kennedy, however, in his answer to the above question, said he would change the existing policy laid down by the President and Congress. He said: "I have always thought that that was an unwise place to draw the line."

When the second round of the "great debate" was held on Oct. 7, the audience wasn't told that Sen. Kennedy would reverse the doctrine which the President, the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff and the majority of both houses of Congress had adopted in 1955.

"The interrogator referred to the Oct. 1 statement, and then Sen. Kennedy repeated his view as follows:

"I believe that if you're going to get into war for the defense of Formosa, it ought to be on a clearly defined line. . . . As long as they (Quemoy and Matsu) are not essential to the defense of Formosa, it's been my judgment ever since 1954 at the time of the Eisenhower doctrine for the Far East that our line should be drawn in the sea around the island (Formosa) itself."

ON THIS, Mr. Nixon commented immediately: "Now, as far as Quemoy and Matsu are concerned, the question is not these two little pieces of real estate—they are unimportant. . . . it's the principle involved.

"These two islands are in the area of freedom. The Nationalists have these two islands.

"We should not force our Nationalist allies to get off of them and give them to the Communists. If we do that, we start a chain reaction because the Communists aren't after Quemoy and Matsu. They're after Formosa."

In the third round of the "debate"—on Oct. 13—the two candidates defined their positions again in substantially the same way.

Mr. Nixon said that he would not change the Eisenhower policy, which specifically declines to define the exact line of defense.

Sen. Kennedy, on the other hand, reiterated that he would do so. He added that President Eisenhower in a letter to Theodore Green, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee had not insisted on the defense of Quemoy and Matsu.

The television audience couldn't get the significance of that brief quotation unless it also knew the background of the Eisenhower policy. Thus, Mr. Eisenhower wrote on Oct. 5, 1958, to Sen. Green:

"Neither you nor any other American need feel the United States will be involved in military hostilities merely in defense of Quemoy or Matsu."

The key word is "merely." When Sen. Kennedy read that quotation over the air in the Oct. 13 "debate," how many persons in the audience caught the meaning of that single word?

BOTH HOUSES of Congress had this issue up in January 1955 and efforts were made by a minority to draw the line and keep Quemoy and Matsu out of the defense area.

Sen. Kennedy was in that minority group. The Senate, however, by a vote of 74 to 13 rejected any further definition.

The resolution, as finally approved—by an 85-3 vote in the Senate and by a big majority in the House—declares that the president is authorized to use our armed forces "as he deems necessary for the specific purpose of securing and protecting Formosa and the Pescadores against armed attack, this authority to include the securing and protection of such related positions and territories of that area now in friendly hands and the taking of such other measures as he judges to be required or appropriate in assuring the defense of Formosa and Pescadores."

To say now that "related positions" must be abandoned and will not be defended is to serve notice that the United States has changed its position.

Why should a military judgment or decision of this kind be made anyway in a television "debate" in the middle of a political campaign?

Wouldn't it be better to let the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff determine such questions and let the president make a final decision on the basis of all the facts available at the time, including the damage which could be done psychologically to Nationalist China, the Philippines, South Korea and other areas with whose peoples the United States is allied?

If you have to fight an enemy, why tell him in advance exactly how you will fight him?

How can the average listener judge a complex question of this kind by watching a TV debate?

The answer is that he cannot and that this type of controversy doesn't belong in a political campaign either.

So-o-o Comfortable

By Truman Twill

In a little while, everything else will have gone to sleep.

Summer daylight is being turned off.

The leaf blanket is being pulled up around the earth's shoulders for another long rest.

There is a last-minute scurrying to get ready for what's ahead—to find just the right place. Squirrels are making themselves snug. And groundhogs and chipmunks.

Those battered bodies on the highways that motorists try not to run over with cruel wheels—those are mostly possums that lost their way. Possums aren't bright. They're the oldest species extant in an unbroken line of descent from very ancient times, but they're not bright. There's a moral in that. Bright guys go to the showers first, maybe.

Men are brighter than all get-out, which is why they step up their scurrying rate and dying rate too when summer ends. Each year-end as winter begins, men band together to make big plans for the things they hope to do before spring.

It is a kind of whistling in the darkness, in the hope that if everybody is noisy no one will notice how still it is outside—how still and how lifeless.

One by one, all the living companions of mankind allied more with nature than with men either go away, or nod themselves to sleep. Finally, nothing is left awake except the chickadees that have flown down from the Arctic and hardy hangers on like cardinals, crows, rabbits, pheasants and starlings.

All the flowers go, even the roses, marigolds and chrysanthemums that are the last to give up.

It is a time to build fires and sit in front of them with dogs and cats to share the warmth.

It is a time to draw together in the encompassing darkness for the companionship that accounts for the odd fact that only in the cold zones has there been progress away from the savagery that is the curse of the human race.

Not long from now will come the winter solstice, when men will hide their helplessness with a show of jollity called Christmas and New Year.

After that, things will get better. Light and warmth will come back, day by day. Grass will gather strength for another healing of scars. Trees will stir, Seeds will fulfill their promise of eternal life, and one day it will be spring again.

Sleepy animals will open their eyes and get busy with their destinies. Man will relax from wintering effort. They will dream of everything about the good old summertime that strikes them as infinitely better than anything about the bad old wintertime.

Too bad, isn't it, that all of us cannot curl up with the chipmunks and stay asleep until May? It would be sooo comfortable. . .

Thirty-one states and the District of Columbia have individual income taxes; 19 withhold all or part of the tax from wages and salaries. A 20th will begin to do so next year.

Council Adopt Power Rates

EAST PALESTINE — A new power rate ordinance, with increases slated to go into effect in December, was approved by Council in a final action Monday night.

The new schedule, designed to produce additional revenue for a planned $836,000 improvement program at the municipal light plant, provides rate boosts for domestic and industrial users.

Home users will be paying an average 73 cents extra under the schedule, while commercial and industrial clients will be paying an average 31 per cent more.

The schedule calls for an increase in the price of the first 25 kilowatt hours from 4½ to 5 cents, and the price of the next 35 kilowatt hours from 3¼ to 4½ cents.

Large users can contract for a minimum power, quota, paying 2 cents a kilowatt hour between 200 and 1,800 KWH. Otherwise, the price in that power bracket is 3 cents.

The new rates, approved by Council under suspension of rules requiring separate readings, will go into effect in December, and will be payable Jan. 1-10.

The rates will help supplement the cost of the improvement project for which a $600,000 bond issue has been authorized by Council.

St. Clair Trustees Back Policy Levy

St. Clair Township trustees Monday night urged passage of a 1-mill police protection levy on the Nov. 8 ballot for the township.

Harold Williams, chairman, said the county auditor's office had pointed out the township's overall millage had been reduced 1.1 mills, consequently approval of the levy would not mean an increase in the tax payments of property owners.

The trustees last night advised Alfred Fricano Puriton Ave. should be improved and the banks sloped before the roadway can be accepted.

Improvement of Presbyterian Camp Rd. was promised to a delegation consisting of Stanley Rose, George Reynolds and Russ Matthew.

Wellsville Driver Given Suspension

A Wellsville driver received a six-month suspension of his permit under the state demerit system and two others were given one-year suspensions in hearings held at Lisbon before Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard.

Herbert H. Means, 34, of 1201 Commerce St., Wellsville, had been convicted of driving while intoxicated Oct. 21, 1958, and of driving while his permit was under suspension Aug. 30, both in Municipal Court. This gave him the limit of 12 points.

Receiving the longer suspensions were Frank J. Harrigan, 29, of Salem, and Lon Bruner, 23, of East Rochester R. D. 1.

Harrigan had two charges of reckless operation, in Salem mayor's court March 8, 1959, and in County Court April 9, 1960, and driving while intoxicated Sept. 10 in Salem, for 12 points.

Bruner amassed 16 points for speeding April 13 in Minerva, driving on the wrong side Feb. 8 in Medina, driving while intoxicated June 21, 1959, and driving while his permit was suspended Jan. 6, 1959, both in Lisbon.

Man Given Term On Check Charge

Howard D. Stern of Quecreek, Pa., was sentenced to 30 days in the Hancock County jail on the charge filed by Paul G. Reed of Lawrenceville, who cashed the check for Stern Friday.

The check was made out on a Potters Bank & Trust Co. account, and Reed learned Saturday at the bank Stern did not have an account. Stern was arrested Saturday night on Carolina Ave. by Constable Harold Davis.

Stern pleaded guilty and was committed to the county jail.

Woman Driver Cited And Not City Autoist

Mary Tefft, 57, of Salineville R. D. 1 was cited as a result of a Route 267 traffic mishap Sunday, not Robert Craig, 34, of 1020 Ambrose Ave., as reported by the Review Monday.

The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon said the woman had stopped for an intersection, then pulled out into the path of Craig's car, which struck hers. She was charged with failure to yield the right-of-way.

Council Adopt Power Rates

EAST PALESTINE — A new power rate ordinance, with increases slated to go into effect in December, was approved by Council in a final action Monday night.

The new schedule, designed to produce additional revenue for a planned $836,000 improvement program at the municipal light plant, provides rate boosts for domestic and industrial users.

Home users will be paying an average 73 cents extra under the schedule, while commercial and industrial clients will be paying an average 31 per cent more.

The schedule calls for an increase in the price of the first 25 kilowatt hours from 4½ to 5 cents, and the price of the next 35 kilowatt hours from 3¼ to 4½ cents.

Large users can contract for a minimum power, quota, paying 2 cents a kilowatt hour between 200 and 1,800 KWH. Otherwise, the price in that power bracket is 3 cents.

The new rates, approved by Council under suspension of rules requiring separate readings, will go into effect in December, and will be payable Jan. 1-10.

The rates will help supplement the cost of the improvement project for which a $600,000 bond issue has been authorized by Council.

St. Clair Trustees Back Policy Levy

St. Clair Township trustees Monday night urged passage of a 1-mill police protection levy on the Nov. 8 ballot for the township.

Harold Williams, chairman, said the county auditor's office had pointed out the township's overall millage had been reduced 1.1 mills, consequently approval of the levy would not mean an increase in the tax payments of property owners.

The trustees last night advised Alfred Fricano Purlton Ave. should be improved and the banks sloped before the roadway can be accepted.

Improvement of Presbyterian Camp Rd. was promised to a delegation consisting of Stanley Rose, George Reynolds and Russ Matthew.

Mrs. George Cawthon, president, will give the welcome and lead the group in the Pledge of Allegiance.

Solos will be sung by Mrs. Alvin Stephens.

William Tompos of Weirton, Democratic candidate for state senator, will discuss his party's platform. The GOP platform will be outlined by Donald Van Camp of Wheeling, who served in the State Senate from 1946-1950 and is now general manager of the New York Life Insurance Co.

The Democratic candidates will be introduced by Lou Serra of Weirton. James Ravoira, county GOP chairman, will introduce the Republican candidates.

The county executive committees of both parties have been invited, the club announced. Mrs. Richard Haynes and Miss Susan Finley are co-chairmen.

Refreshments will follow.

Wellsville Driver Given Suspension

A Wellsville driver received a six-month suspension of his permit under the state demerit system and two others were given one-year suspensions in hearings held at Lisbon before Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard.

Herbert H. Means, 34, of 1201 Commerce St., Wellsville, had been convicted of driving while intoxicated Oct. 21, 1958, and of driving while his permit was under suspension Aug. 30, both in Municipal Court. This gave him the limit of 12 points.

Receiving the longer suspensions were Frank J. Harrigan, 29, of Salem, and Lon Bruner, 23, of East Rochester R. D. 1.

Harrigan had two charges of reckless operation, in Salem mayor's court March 8, 1959, and in County Court April 9, 1960, and driving while intoxicated Sept. 10 in Salem, for 12 points.

Bruner amassed 16 points for speeding April 13 in Minerva, driving on the wrong side Feb. 6 in Medina, driving while intoxicated June 21, 1959, and driving while his permit was suspended Jan. 6, 1960, both in Lisbon.

Man Given Term On Check Charge

A 44-year-old Pennsylvanian was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to jail Monday night by Squire Eugene Allison of Chester for making and issuing a fraudulent check for $30.

Howard D. Stern of Quecreek, Pa., was sentenced to 30 days in the Hancock County jail on the charge filed by Paul G. Reed of Lawrenceville, who cashed the check for Stern Friday.

The check was made out on a Potters Bank & Trust Co. account, and Reed learned Saturday at the bank Stern did not have an account. Stern was arrested Saturday night on Carolina Ave. by Constable Harold Davis.

Stern pleaded guilty and was committed to the county jail.

Woman Driver Cited And Not City Autoist

Mary Tuft, 57, of Salineville R. D. 1 was cited as a result of a Route 267 traffic mishap Sunday, not Robert Craig, 38, of 1020 Ambrose Ave., as reported by the Review Monday.

The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon said the woman had stopped for an intersection, then pulled out into the path of Craig's car, which struck hers. She was charged with failure to yield the right-of-way.

Political Parties Keeping 'Hands Off' In Wage Tax

A pre-election program on candidates and issues was presented by Russell Hall, program chairman. Speaking were Samuel B. Webber, vice chairman of the Men's Republican Club, and Mike Sweeney, secretary of the East Liverpool Democrat Club.

ON THE wage tax issue, Sweeney said "I think it's right for the taxpayers to pay to run the city. I believe it (the tax issue) should be passed but, the party is taking no position."

Webber said "I am an income tax man. I voted for it twice before. At that time the Republican administration had a planned program and it was turned down. We as a Republican party are not supporting the program nor are we against it."

Webber claimed the present administration doesn't have a program outlined if the proposal does pass. "If it does, $400,000 will pour into East Liverpool without a planned program, he said.

BOTH MEN outlined the activities of their parties on a local level and spoke briefly of the candidates. A question-and-answer period followed. Sweeney appeared for James V. Flasco, president of the Democrat Club, who was unable to attend.

Young Daughter Of Late Actress Is Found Dead

NEW YORK (AP)—The young daughter of the late actress Margaret Sullavan and producer Leland Hayward apparently committed suicide Monday in her midtown apartment, an assistant medical examiner said today.

The body of Bridget Hayward, 21, was found by her father about 4:30 p.m. He called the family physician, who in turn notified the medical examiner's office. The girl had been dead several hours.

An incoherent note was found in the room, but its contents were not disclosed.

The exact cause of death was not determined. An autopsy has been set for later.

Police believed the girl had been pursuing an acting career.

Detectives said Miss Hayward had lived alone in the three-room apartment for about two years.

Her mother died last Jan. 1 in New Haven, Conn. Her death was attributed to an overdose of sleeping pills.

Hayward and Miss Sullavan were divorced in 1948.

Group Formed To Fight Option

A committee opposing the local option question in Yellow Creek Township outlined its plan of action at a meeting Monday night at the Hillcrest Community Club.

Paul Talbott was named chairman of the East Precinct and Herbert Frischkorn was named chairman of the West Precinct to carry the fight to the voters.

Talbott was instrumental in calling the meeting and forming the committee.

Plans were made to distribute handbills to all the voters in the district. Talbott and Frischkorn will give the handbills to workers to cover the territory.

The committee pointed out that sale of liquor, beer and wine would not return any net revenue to the township.

Charles Allison of West Precinct was named secretary of the committee. No future meetings were set.

The local option was defeated in the township once previously. All seven local option questions will appear on the Nov. 8 ballot.

YMCA Performs Many Services

(This is the last in a series on the services of the various agencies which participate in the Community Fund Association. Each report was designed to help area residents decide for themselves just how much these agencies are worth to them.)

Have you ever watched a small boy proudly flex a newly-developed muscle? Did it bring a smile to your lips? What monetary value can we put on that boy's pride, or your smile?

What price would you place on the delight experienced by a group of youngsters splashing happily in a swimming pool? What value to the parents to know their children are learning a new skill under the watchful eyes of trained instructors?

And of what value is a program which develops a neighborhood "bully" into a boy who respects fair play and learns how to be a good sport? And how about friendship — what's that worth to a boy?

Say a boy like Eddie. . . a funny fellow, lonesome, anxious to be friendly, but a boy who just couldn't seem to cotton to anybody. He'd read books on how to win friends, but couldn't put what he read into action. Then, Eddie joined the YMCA. It was impossible, even for a fellow like Eddie, not to make friends in such a friendly atmosphere, with such a roster of activities. Like Eddie, thousands of young men, and older ones, too, have been helped to get their bearings in the "Y".

OUR YMCA has served the tri-state district for three generations. In the last year alone some 1,550 members were enrolled in various phases of the "Y" program, and an additional 2,370 non-members participated.

What is an active program of this kind worth to a community? And it is available to all, regardless of race, color or creed.

Are you one of these old-fashioned people who think the YMCA is just a program to keep boys off the street? It's a lot more than that! Under trained leaders, boys develop strong bodies, acquire hand skills, good attitudes of behavior, fair play, and they learn to respect the rights of others. And, in this community, many phases of the program are open to girls and women, too.

Thousands of boys and girls, men and women, too, have learned to swim in the "Y" pool. Beginning, advanced and life-saving classes are regularly conducted by the Physical Department. Last year, usage of the pool totalled some 23,000; with the use of gymnasium facilities increasing that total to 25,000.

The coming fall and winter "Y" program will include the ever-popular Junior Boys Church Basketball League. Last year, 250 youngsters saw action in this league.

Every summer, the "Y's" Adult Church Softball League furnishes wholesome recreation that is enjoyed by some 225 young and older men.

SUMMERTIME, too, is camping time. This year 402 boys and girls spent one or more weeks at the "Y's" Pine Ridge Camp. In an ideal and beautiful rustic setting, the new lodge and cabins brought these youngsters an unforgettable experience in the fun of "camping out". Although the cost for each camper ranges from $20 to $24 weekly, only $16 is charged for their stay at Pine Ridge. It would be easy to figure the number of kids your Community Fund pledge will help send to Pine Ridge next year.

Our YMCA is more than a program for young folks. It is a veritable beehive of community activity the year 'round. More than 30 organizations of the tri-state area use the Y's club rooms as their regular meeting place. And countless other groups use its facilities for an occasional meeting.

No rental fee is charged any of these civic organizations, although a few do make a "token" contribution to the YMCA program. All told, the Y's clubrooms were in use by these "outside" groups more than 1,700 hours during the past year. Of what value to the community is this facility which makes possible the operation of these 30 other worthy organizations?

Yet, our YMCA is more than a building which has been open to our use since 1914. It represents the local phase of a program which is international in scope, flourishing now in 76 different countries around the world.

The familiar "Y" Triangle, which we see wherever we go, stands for an organization founded in 1848 — the Young Men's Christian Association.

It is not just a building which houses a boys' club to "keep them off the street", nor is it just a community "meeting place". It represents a program designed to develop boys and young men in "Spirit, Mind and Body" . . . a program from which we have selected only certain highlights to help the reader decide its worth.

How effective this far-reaching program will be in our future will depend in great measure on the amount of help it receives through the Community Fund campaign. What is the YMCA worth to you?

(This is the last in a series on the services of the various agencies which participate in the Community Fund Association. Each report was designed to help area residents decide for themselves just how much these agencies are worth to them.)

Have you ever watched a small boy proudly flex a newly-developed muscle? Did it bring a smile to your lips? What monetary value can we put on that boy's pride, or your smile?

What price would you place on the delight experienced by a group of youngsters splashing happily in a swimming pool? What value to the parents to know their children are learning a new skill under the watchful eyes of trained instructors?

And of what value is a program which develops a neighborhood "bully" into a boy who respects fair play and learns how to be a good sport? And how about friendship — what's that worth to a boy?

Say a boy like Eddie. . . a funny fellow, lonesome, anxious to be friendly, but a boy who just couldn't seem to cotton to anybody. He'd read books on how to win friends, but couldn't put what he read into action. Then, Eddie joined the YMCA. It was impossible, even for a fellow like Eddie, not to make friends in such a friendly atmosphere, with such a roster of activities. Like Eddie, thousands of young men, and older ones, too, have been helped to get their bearings in the "Y".

OUR YMCA has served the tri-state district for three generations. In the last year alone some 1,550 members were enrolled in various phases of the "Y" program, and an additional 2,370 non-members participated.

What is an active program of this kind worth to a community? And it is available to all, regardless of race, color or creed.

Are you one of these old-fashioned people who think the YMCA is just a program to keep boys off the street? It's a lot more than that! Under trained leaders, boys develop strong bodies, acquire hand skills, good attitudes of behavior, fair play, and they learn to respect the rights of others. And, in this community, many phases of the program are open to girls and women, too.

Thousands of boys and girls, men and women, too, have learned to swim in the "Y" pool. Beginning, advanced and life-saving classes are regularly conducted by the Physical Department. Last year, usage of the pool totalled some 23,000; with the use of gymnasium facilities increasing that total to 25,000.

The coming fall and winter "Y" program will include the ever-popular Junior Boys Church Basketball League. Last year, 250 youngsters saw action in this league.

Every summer, the "Y's" Adult Church Softball League furnishes wholesome recreation that is enjoyed by some 225 young and older men.

SUMMERTIME, too, is camping time. This year 402 boys and girls spent one or more weeks at the "Y's" Pine Ridge Camp. In an ideal and beautiful rustic setting, the new lodge and cabins brought these youngsters an unforgettable experience in the fun of "camping out". Although the cost for each camper ranges from $20 to $24 weekly, only $16 is charged for their stay at Pine Ridge. It would be easy to figure the number of kids your Community Fund pledge will help send to Pine Ridge next year.

Our YMCA is more than a program for young folks. It is a veritable beehive of community activity the year 'round. More than 30 organizations of the tri-state area use the Y's club rooms as their regular meeting place. And countless other groups use its facilities for an occasional meeting.

No rental fee is charged any of these civic organizations, although a few do make a "token" contribution to the YMCA program. All told, the Y's clubrooms were in use by these "outside" groups more than 1,700 hours during the past year. Of what value to the community is this facility which makes possible the operation of these 30 other worthy organizations?

Yet, our YMCA is more than a building which has been open to our use since 1914. It represents the local phase of a program which is international in scope, flourishing now in 76 different countries around the world.

The familiar "Y" Triangle, which we see wherever we go, stands for an organization founded in 1848 — the Young Men's Christian Association.

It is not just a building which houses a boys' club to "keep them off the street", nor is it just a community "meeting place". It represents a program designed to develop boys and young men in "Spirit, Mind and Body" . . . a program from which we have selected only certain highlights to help the reader decide its worth.

How effective this far-reaching program will be in our future will depend in great measure on the amount of help it receives through the Community Fund campaign. What is the YMCA worth to you?

Keep In Trim

Special Plan Helps Hunger Pains In Diet

It is easy to understand why you dread going hungry. Hunger is unpleasant. Overweights, this I can promise you: On a balanced low-calorie diet you will not feel unbearably hungry. It is true that if you have stretched your stomach, then for the first week or possibly two, you will not feel as full on smaller meals as you customarily would. However, as your food capacity lessens, you will feel content on slimming meals.

By Ida Jean Kain

Some of you ask if it is a good plan to increase the bulky foods—to eat large amounts of vegetables and salads—so as to create a feeling of fullness on low-calorie fare. It is not wise to include so much bulk in the diet that it keeps the stomach from "shrinking down."

—:—

HUNGER IS appeased when a feeling of fullness is experienced. This fullness is thought to be created by the tension exerted from within on the muscular walls of the stomach. On smaller meals the stomach tends to shrink and you feel satisfied more quickly.

A homemaker who weighed 350 pounds wrote that it took three weeks of dieting. . .three weeks of getting up from the table unsatisfied, before she knew she would not be hungry all afternoon or all evening. She said it would help dieters to know that 30 minutes after finishing the meal she felt appeased, and in an hour she had forgotten about food.

That dieter had a real tough row to hoe in the beginning because she was used to eating enormous meals.

Hunger is more effectively appeased on three modest meals a day than on one or two big meals. There is a more effective carry-over of energy and better hunger control when a protein food is included at each of the three meals, starting with breakfast.

A low-calorie breakfast, 200 to 350 calories, can keep you satisfied until lunch time. If you skip or skimp on breakfast, you lose out on stepped-up metabolism by many hours. (Of course, this does not hold true for late risers.)

—:—

ZERO HOUR for dieters is apt to be late afternoon. It's a good plan to cut ahead of hunger pangs by taking a scientific pick - up around 4:00. Some career women-homemakers find it helps to take a pick-up immediately on arriving home from work. . .before starting dinner preparations. Keep the pick-up within 100 calories. If you feel famished, eat a hard-cooked egg, or have a glass of buttermilk.

Keep in mind that after a few days or a week on low-calorie fare, hunger pangs will not be troublesome.

Send a long, self - addressed, stamped envelope for "Hunger Control Diet." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests cannot be answered.

Special Plan Helps Hunger Pains In Diet

It is easy to understand why you dread going hungry. Hunger is unpleasant. Overweights, this I can promise you: On a balanced low-calorie diet you will not feel unbearably hungry. It is true that if you have stretched your stomach, then for the first week or possibly two, you will not feel as full on smaller meals as you customarily would. However, as your food capacity lessens, you will feel content on slimming meals.

By Ida Jean Kain

Some of you ask if it is a good plan to increase the bulky foods—to eat large amounts of vegetables and salads—so as to create a feeling of fullness on low-calorie fare. It is not wise to include so much bulk in the diet that it keeps the stomach from "shrinking down."

—:—

HUNGER IS appeased when a feeling of fullness is experienced. This fullness is thought to be created by the tension exerted from within on the muscular walls of the stomach. On smaller meals the stomach tends to shrink and you feel satisfied more quickly.

A homemaker who weighed 350 pounds wrote that it took three weeks of dieting . . three weeks of getting up from the table unsatisfied, before she knew she would not be hungry all afternoon or all evening. She said it would help dieters to know that 30 minutes after finishing the meal she felt appeased, and in an hour she had forgotten about food.

That dieter had a real tough row to hoe in the beginning because she was used to eating enormous meals.

Hunger is more effectively appeased on three modest meals a day than on one or two big meals. There is a more effective carry-over of energy and better hunger control when a protein food is included at each of the three meals, starting with breakfast.

A low-calorie breakfast, 200 to 350 calories, can keep you satisfied until lunch time. If you skip or skimp on breakfast, you lose out on stepped-up metabolism by many hours. (Of course, this does not hold true for late risers.)

—:—

ZERO HOUR for dieters is apt to be late afternoon. It's a good plan to cut ahead of hunger pangs by taking a scientific pick - up around 4:00. Some career women-homemakers find it helps to take a pick-up immediately on arriving home from work . . before starting dinner preparations. Keep the pick-up within 100 calories. If you feel famished, eat a hard-cooked egg, or have a glass of buttermilk.

Keep in mind that after a few days or a week on low-calorie fare, hunger pangs will not be troublesome.

Send a long, self - addressed, stamped envelope for "Hunger Control Diet." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests cannot be answered.

Child Loses Finger To Bear; $25,150 Ask

LISBON — Joseph Hahn Jr. of Canfield claims his daughter, Lori, 3, lost her left index finger to a bear she was feeding at the Williams Wild Game Farm at New Waterford Aug. 14.

He asks $25,000 for the injury to the child and $150 in medical expenses in the suit filed in Common Pleas Court Monday. He said his family bought popcorn to feed the animals at the game farm and that one of the two bears nipped off the finger.

He claims the farm and the operator, L. T. Williams of New Waterford, were negligent in not warning of the danger and not keeping the animals properly confined.

Home Ransacked, Burglar Gets $30

A burglar obtained $30 in the ransacking of an East End home Monday, the owner reported to police.

The money was taken from the home of Lester Miles, 1075 Monaca St., sometime between 9:45 and 11 a. m., police said.

The intruder gained entrance by tearing the screen off a kitchen window, Miles reported. Cushions were removed from overstuffed couches and chairs in the living-room and hurled onto the floor, apparently in a search for money, Miles said.

The intruder also ransacked a desk in an upstairs bedroom and emptied the contents of a metal box onto a bed, he added.

When he first reported the burglary at 11:45 a. m., Miles said nothing was missing. However, at 4:40 p. m., he notified the department he had discovered the loss of three $10 bills, police said.

Agreement Reached In Junk Yard Eviction

An agreement was reached Monday in Beaver County Court before Judge Morgan Sohn in a case of an ejectment action of the state against William D. Waxler of Raccoon Township.

The suit was transferred to Equality Court after Waxler agreed to move an auto junk yard located at Kennedy's Corners, at Route 18 near Green Garden Rd. and Shippingport Rd.

The junk yard was considered an eyesore by the State Highway Department for some time.

The original case involved ownership of the land. Both the State and Waxler claim it. Ownership will be decided in Equality Court.

sist and actively lead a program for the betterment of the city."

—:—

THE IMPROVEMENT program should include, "but not be limited to," the seven points cited in the letter, the mayor said.

In the letter's opening paragraphs, he pointed out that the present administration and Council assumed office over nine months ago and have had an opportunity to become acquainted with the city's problems.

"I think it is incumbent upon us to take stock of our situation and set forth some workable program which will make East Liverpool a more prosperous and pleasant place in which to work and live," he said.

"Firstly, let me say publicly what many thoughtful citizens have long realized: that our city does not have and will not have for some years to come any sites available to permit substantial industrial development within the city proper," he said.

—:—

"I AM IN favor of zoning and planned development which may, at some future date, result in making land available for industry," the mayor wrote. "However, our present problem is so acute as to require immediate action, lest through a continuation of the past and present neglect we accelerate the downward trend which has been in evidence since 1955," the mayor continued.

Concluding, Mayor Goodballet said he hopes to meet with Council in a continuing series of discussions "to seek a solution to the problems which confront us."

"Through such meetings we can plan a course of action that will attract the support of the many civic-minded groups and individuals whose co-operation is essential to success."

500 Reindeer Defy Soviet Border Guards

VADSOE, Norway (AP)—Defying security-conscious Soviet border guards, 500 reindeer have crossed into the Soviet Union from Norway's northernmost province of Finmark.

Frantic efforts by Lapp herders to stop the animals were of no avail. Said Finmark's border commissioner, Audun Magnus: "We have asked the government for money to make proper fences along the border. So far we have got nothing."

Now the Soviets and the Norwegians are preparing for the complicated red tape necessary for repatriation of the defectors.

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. (AP) —"He asked me not to try to stop him," said the father of a 14-year-old boy who has set out to see the world in a 30-foot ketch.

"But his life's in danger," the father said, "and he doesn't know it."

Young Larry Reitz and two friends set sail Saturday night in the Alpha I, a boat owned by a brother-in-law of Larry's father. The Coast Guard hasn't found any trace of them, although it has had seven boats, two planes and a helicopter out looking.

Dr. M.J. Reitz said his son left a note saying he was going to see the world and find his "secret fortune."

With Larry are Mike Massei, 14, and Nick Brisseau, 15. Dr. Reitz said they had enough fuel for a 500-mile trip and enough food to last a week.

Midland Pipe Supplier Robbed In Uhrichsville

Police were on a cold and almost clueless trail today, seeking two well dressed, briefcase-carrying gunmen who robbed a Uhrichsville industrialist and his wife of $1,000 in cash and more than $10,000 worth of jewelry.

T. J. Evans III, president of the Evans Pipe Co. of Uhrichsville and Carrollton, which is supplying vitrified clay pipe for Midland's new sewage treatment plant, told police the two men drove up to his S. Main St. house Saturday about 7 p. m.

He said he let them enter when they said they wanted to "see you on business." They tied Evans and his wife and spent 45 minutes ransacking the house. When the pair left, after ripping out telephone lines, they took $1,000 in cash, some traveler's checks and thousands of dollars of jewelry, Police Chief Ralph Romig said.

THE IMPROVEMENT program should include, "but not be limited to," the seven points cited in the letter, the mayor said.

In the letter's opening paragraphs, he pointed out that the present administration and Council assumed office ever nine months ago and have had an opportunity to become acquainted with the city's problems.

"I think it is incumbent upon us to take stock of our situation and set forth some workable program which will make East Liverpool a more prosperous and pleasant place in which to work and live," he said.

"Firstly, let me say publicly what many thoughtful citizens have long realized: that our city does not have and will not have for some years to come any sites available to permit substantial industrial development within the city proper," he said.

—:—

"I AM IN favor of zoning and planned development which may, at some future date, result in making land available for industry," the mayor wrote. "However, our present problem is so acute as to require immediate action. Lost through a continuation of the past and present neglect we accelerate the downward trend which has been in evidence since 1955," the mayor continued.

Concluding, Mayor Goodhallet said he hopes to meet with Council in a continuing series of discussions "to seek a solution to the problems which confront us."

"Through such meetings we can plan a course of action that will attract the support of the many civic-minded groups and individuals whose co-operation is essential to success."

500 Reindeer Defy Soviet Border Guards

VADSOE, Norway (AP)—Defying security-conscious Soviet border guards, 500 reindeer have crossed into the Soviet Union from Norway's northernmost province of Finmark.

Frantic efforts by Lapp herders to stop the animals were of no avail. Said Finmark's border commissioner, Audun Magnus: "We have asked the government for money to make proper fences along the border. So far we have got nothing."

Now the Soviets and the Norwegians are preparing for the complicated red tape necessary for repatriation of the defectors.

Sea Hunt Goes On For 3 Youths In 30-Foot Ketch

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. (AP) —"He asked me not to try to stop him," said the father of a 14-year-old boy who has set out to see the world in a 30-foot ketch.

"But his life's in danger," the father said, "and he doesn't know it."

Young Larry Reitz and two friends set sail Saturday night in the Alpha I, a boat owned by a brother-in-law of Larry's father. The Coast Guard hasn't found any trace of them, although it has had seven boats, two planes and a helicopter out looking.

Dr. M.J. Reitz said his son left a note saying he was going to see the world and find his "secret fortune."

With Larry are Mike Massei, 14, and Nick Brisseau, 15. Dr. Reitz said they had enough fuel for a 500-mile trip and enough food to last a week.

Midland Pipe Supplier Robbed In Uhrichsville

Police were on a cold and almost clueless trail today, seeking two well dressed, briefcase-carrying gunmen who robbed a Uhrichsville industrialist and his wife of $1,000 in cash and more than $10,000 worth of jewelry.

T. J. Evans III, president of the Evans Pipe Co. of Uhrichsville and Carrollton, which is supplying vitrified clay pipe for Midland's new sewage treatment plant, told police the two men drove up to his S. Main St. house Saturday about 7 p. m.

He said he let them enter when they said they wanted to "see you on business." They tied Evans and his wife and spent 45 minutes ransacking the house. When the pair left, after ripping out telephone lines, they took $1,000 in cash, some traveler's checks and thousands of dollars of jewelry, Police Chief Ralph Romig said.

The pilot of the plane was Victor Keachie of Duluth, Minn. His passengers were Robert Jensen of Cleveland and Jensen's wife, Violet.

They were en route from Oakland, Calif., to Las Vegas, Nev.

Allen's Toe Was Difference . . .

There were no gopher holes to step into at Lafayette, Ind., Saturday so Ohio State coach Woody Hayes had to stand by and watch East Liverpool's Bernie Allen lead Purdue to a 24-21 upset victory over the Buckeyes.

A year ago while working out in Ohio Stadium, Bernie stepped into a hole on the turf and sprained his ankle. He was Purdue's No. 1 quarterback, but saw less than a quarter of action against Ohio State.

One of Bernie's wishes was to see Purdue defeat Ohio State and he was the primary reason why the Boilermakers rolled Saturday.

It was Allen's 32-yard field goal that spelled the margin of victory Saturday at Ross Ade Stadium. He also kicked three consecutive extra points and his passes set up one touchdown.

Bernie only threw six times Saturday, but completed five for 85 yards.

—:—

WITH each defeat suffered by Ohio State, why does Hayes have to come up with excuses? Last week he blamed the officials, then slammed the door in the face of newsmen.

His actions Saturday at Lafayette were similar to post-game demonstrations which got him in hot water last season.

Saturday he said he couldn't understand a couple of key calls by officials and would not allow newsmen in the Ohio State dressing room after the loss to Purdue.

Why ELHS Punted On 3rd Down . . .

COACH Lou Venditti explained why East Liverpool punted on a third down situation in the third quarter of Friday's game with Youngstown Rayen.

The Potters were leading 6-0 at the time and the Potter coach didn't want to risk a gamble of passing on third down deep in his own territory.

The ball was on the Potter 26-yard line with third down and 8 yards to go. Venditti sent Cookie Goodballet into the game to do the punting.

Rather than risk a chance of a bad pass from center on fourth down, the Potter coach ordered Goodballet to kick on third down.

If there would have been a bad pass on third down, the Potters still would have had another down to punt out of their territory.

We feel it was sound football. But because the punt wasn't a good one, the play was questioned. And to make matters worse, Youngstown took over on the Potter 35 and marched for a touchdown.

A good punt would have set Rayen back in its own territory and the Potters would have been out of danger.

—:—

THE 1960 East Liverpool club is short on talent, but Venditti calls it the "greatest team I have ever coached."

The scene in the Potter dressing room after Friday's game pretty well told us how the team felt. A few were crying and all heads were lowered.

They were up against a good Rayen team and they spotted almost 40 pounds on the forward wall. It seemed East Liverpool had the game won late in the fourth quarter, but a sensational catch by a Rayen halfback in the last minute of the game turned victory into defeat.

The Potters had nothing to be ashamed of Friday night.

Man Of The 'H-Ours' . . .

IT'S NOT surprising that Wellsville football fans are singing the praises of Quarterback Roger Ours, who is leading the Tigers toward their only unbeaten season.

Statistics, exclusive of the Freedom game which ended in a 7-7 tie, show that Ours has completed 60 per cent of his passes, is averaging 7.4 yards per carry and is the team's leading scorer with 68 points on nine touchdowns and seven conversions.

Only a junior, Ours calls signals, runs and passes like a four-year veteran. Only one of his 45 attempted passes has been intercepted. He has completed 27.

Sure-handed and a smart runner who looks for his blockers, Ours has rolled up 400 yards in rushing, the longest a 66-yard touchdown dash. He's clever enough to go the distance most any time he rolls out on the option play.

Incidentally, Ours engineers the Tigers from behind the stellar line play of center Phil Baldwin, a smart, tough defender who should make a strong bid for All-Ohio honors.

This 'N That In Football . . .

IVAN TONCIC, former Midland High School University of Pittsburgh quarterback, is performing for the Duquesne Ironmen, defending champions in the American Football Conference. The Ironmen lost to the Massillon Stars, 19-6, over the weekend and Toncic set up the score by throwing a 31-yard pass to Bob Rathi.

—:—

RON MCLAUGHLIN of Beaver Local continued sailing towards the district scoring title after added 18 points Saturday to eclipse the 100-point mark. He now has 15 touchdowns and 14 extra points for 104.

His nearest competitor is Roger Ours of Wellsville. Ours added 16 points last Friday but failed to gain any ground on the Beaver Local star. The Wellsville quarterback shows 9 touchdowns and 14 conversion points for 68.

Jerry Bush of East Palestine is third with 62 while Salem's Ron Janovec has 46 points and Larry Webber of Fairfield - Waterford is fifth with 42.

The only change this week was the addition of Rick Bowling of Lisbon to the lists of top scorers. Bowling turned in the top performance of the week by scoring five touchdowns against Sebring. He has a total of 38 points for the season.

A breakdown on the top six follows:

	TD's	Con.	Total
McLaughlin (BL)	15	14	104
Ours (Wellsville)	9	14	68
Bush (E. Palestine)	8	14	62
Janovec (Salem)	7	4	46
Webber (F-W)	6	6	42
Bowling (Lisbon)	6	2	38

—:—

UP UNTIL the Ohio Wesleyan game last Saturday, Salineville's Larry Kessler, who has moved into the starting quarterback job at Mt. Union, had completed 16 of 34 aerials and three touchdowns.

—:—

WILLIS WOODS of East Palestine, who was an immediate hit when he enrolled at Thiel College, Pa., passed for two touchdowns in Thiel's 42-6 win over Case Tech.

Mixed Emotions . . .

WHAT TEAM to give his loyal support to — the World Champion Pittsburgh Pirates, Milwaukee's Braves or the Cleveland Indians—is a problem confronting an 8-year-old Newell boy.

Jackie Durham, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Carl Durham, 524 Grant St., finds his love of the champion Bucs threatened by unusual circumstances.

Jack received from Manager Charlie Dressen of Milwaukee a baseball autographed by the Brave players through Joe Verrone, a Waterford Park jockey who is a friend of Dressen.

The youngster also likes to root for the Indians in the American League as a physican at the Cleveland Clinic supplies him with free tickets on visits there.

Perhaps the Pirates winning the World Series will lead to his unwavering support but the autographed baseball has tempted him to lean towards Milwaukee, his parents report.

Jack is afflicted with rheumatoid arthritis.

National League Expands To 10 Teams

By JOE REICHLER

CHICAGO (AP) — The Associated Press learned today that the American League won't immediately follow the example set Monday by the National League when it committed itself to becoming a 10-team league in 1962 by granting franchises to Houston and New York City.

Instead, the American League, at its meeting scheduled for Oct. 26 in New York, will concentrate on settling its realignment problem.

A source close to Del Webb, head of the AL expansion committee, said the co-owner of the New York Yankees was "gravely concerned" over such problem cities as Kansas City, Washington and Cleveland.

"I think the American League might have to straighten out its realignment problem before it can take definite and positive steps on expansion," said the source.

According to the informant, the American League will discuss several possibilities:

1. The shifting of the Washington franchise to Minneapolis - St. Paul.

2. The desire of Hank Greenberg, part owner of the Chicago White Sox, to obtain a franchise in Washington.

3. The possibility of the Kansas City franchise being moved to Los Angeles.

"And don't overlook the possibility of the Cleveland club being moved elsewhere," added the informant. "I understand the operators of the Cleveland club are fed up. They're terribly disappointed with the attendance this year despite a club that was in contention until the last six weeks of the season."

The American League, at its last meeting in New York Aug. 30, voted to expand to 10 teams no later than Dec. 1, 1961, but did not discuss any new teams. It is understood Dallas-Fort Worth has the inside track for a franchise.

* * * * * *

American League Is Not Ready To Go Along With Expansion

There are 17 other applicants, including Minneapolis-St. Paul, Toronto, Oakland, Seattle and San Diego.

The Kansas City club, owned by the widow of Arnold Johnson, who died last March, is expected to be sold in the near future. It is not known whether the new owners plan to remain or move the franchise elsewhere. The Athletics, by contract, are committed to remain in Kansas City for two more years unless the attendance falls short of the prescribed 850,000 in any season.

It is known that several American League owners want to move to Los Angeles immediately.

Dodger owner Walter O'Malley, who must approve of an AL franchise in his Los Angeles territory, said he would not oppose such a move. But he added he didn't think it would be a smart move at this time.

O'Malley reportedly is opposed to any AL move into Los Angeles before he has completed construction of a stadium in Chavez Ravine, a project that is not expected to be completed until 1962 at the earliest.

Should the American League decide to move to the coast, they may be able to override O'Malley's objection — if he should voice his opposition. Commissioner Ford Frick has been quoted as saying he will rule favorably should the two majors be deadlocked over the issue.

Frick may have to make such an unprecedented decision regarding New York should the American League oppose the National's return to that city.

"Should the American League sure that it will," said Giles, "then the commissioner would be vote 'no', and I am not at all called upon to cast the deciding vote.

"The commissioner has assured us that if we propose a rule to open New York's territory for a National League franchise, and assuming the American League would vote "no", he would vote with the National League."

Houston Takes Major League Bid In Stride

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Houston took all of that major league baseball business Monday rather calmly.

The city got into the major leagues—the National League to be exact—but there were no ticker tape parades, no dancing in the streets.

Still, there was an undercurrent of excitement that might break loose tonight when Craig Cullinan Jr., George Kirksey and Roy Hofheinz return home with the new franchise in a briefcase.

Plans for the welcoming reception started almost as soon as word of the franchise arrived.

The expansion in Houston focused new attention on the need for a county stadium.

"This is what Harris County has been waiting for," said Bill Kirkland, chairman of the county's Board of Park Commissioners.

"It is now up to the county park board to provide the stadium for major league baseball in Houston for 1962," he said.

Rally Set At Wellsville

Enthusiasm Reaches Peak For Tiger-Quaker Battle

Enthusiasm has reached an all-time high in Wellsville this week as the Tigers' hopes soared for their first unbeaten football season.

On the eve of this week's important battle with unbeaten Salem High School, the Curbstone Coaches are planning a huge victory rally and parade Thursday night.

The theme will be "Beat Salem—This is the Year."

A big bonfire will be the point of attraction as fans, civic and fraternal organizations participate in the rally at the parking lot of the American Legion Post 70 home.

The Wellsville High School band will parade from the school through town to the rally as will the Tiger cheerleaders.

The Curbstoners are anticipating the biggest victory demonstration of its kind in many years and will have the fire trucks standing by to assist with the bonfire.

The Tigers, who haven't whipped Salem since 1942, travel to Reilly Stadium in Salem Friday night and could conceivably finish the season unbeaten with a victory. The records stands at 5-0-1 at the present with three games left after the Quaker battle.

Here's District Grid Schedule This Week

Wellsville at Salem
Newell at Stanton Local Leetonia at Lisbon
New Cumberland at South Side

A big sendoff is planned Friday evening as the team departs for Salem. The motorcade will form at the Legion home and a cash prize will be awarded to the owner of the best-decorated auto, the Curbstoners announced.

The motorcade will be led by cruisers from the county sheriff's office and the Wellsville Police Department.

The Curbstoners will accompany the team to Salem and sit in a group. The "Holy Mackeral" cheering section will be led by Commander Hurd of the American Legion home. Earl Leughmyer will be assistant yell leader.

Edward Self, president of the Curbstoners, has named committees for the "Beat Salem" operation.

The victory rally and bonfire will be arranged by Dan, Lou and Eric Shepherd.

Weirton Leads West Virginia Football Poll

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va. (AP) — Weirton and Mount Hope dominate the official state Class AAA and AA high school football ratings for the second straight week with Masontown Valley taking the lead over Ridgeley in Class A ranks.

That's the word from Gordon Eismon, executive secretary of the West Virginia School Activities Commission.

There were several changes in the Class AAA standings. Logan slipped from second to ninth place after bowing to Barboursville, while Parkersburg, ranked fourth last week, dropped to 10th after its loss to Huntington over the weekend.

Defending champion Bluefield moved up from seventh in the runnerup spot behind Weirton. Clarksburg Victory jumped two notches to third place, replacing East Bank, which dropped into fourth place.

Others in the top 10 were Nitro at the fifth spot, followed in order by Morgantown, Grafton, Stonewall Jackson and then Logan.

There was a minor shuffle in Class AA, where Williamson and Milton remained at their respective second and third place positions. Sissonville moved up a notch to fourth and newcomer Stoco was next. Then came Clarksburg R-W, Gauley Bridge, Charles Town and Monongah. New Martinsville fell from fourth to 12th place in back of 11th-ranked Ravenswood.

The latest Class A ratings found Ridgeley second followed in order by Alderson, Harpers Ferry, Crum, Paden City, Barrackville and Buffalo of Putnam County.

East Jr.-Toronto Game Slated At New Field

Reds Start Reshuffle Of Players In Minors

CINCINNATI (AP) — With the baseball season ended, the Cincinnati Reds have started reshuffling their players in the minors.

The club Monday bought the contracts of infielder Tom Harper, 21, from Indianapolis the American Association and of pitchers Harvey Alex, 19, from Topeka of the Three-I League and Bob Moorhead, 22, from Jersey City of the International League.

Alex had a 12-6 mark with Palatka of the Florida League last season while Moorhead was 8-9 with Jersey City. Harper batted .254 and stole 26 bases.

Beaver Local Jayvees Roll

Beaver Local's reserve team scored in each period to whip the Salineville Jayvees, 40-0, Monday.

Larry McLaughlin, brother of Ron McLaughlin, varsity star for Beavr Local, scored two touchdowns on a 10-yard sprint and a 25-yard pass play from John Broadbent.

Broadbent scored one touchdown himself on a quarterback sneak then passd to Pete Wilkinson for another touchdown covering 30 yards.

Fred Woodburn and Dave Durenburger rounded out the scoring with one TD each. The Beaver Local Reserves travel to New Waterford on Monday.

NEW YORK (AP) —Blase New Yorkers today shrugged off the return of the National League to the city. Most of them were indifferent.

The new baseball team will be quartered in the borough of Queens where a stadium is to be erected on the site of the World's Fair grounds.

Allen's Toe Was Difference . . .

There were no gopher holes to step into at Lafayette, Ind., Saturday so Ohio State coach Woody Hayes had to stand by and watch East Liverpool's Bernie Allen lead Purdue to a 24-21 upset victory over the Buckeyes.

A year ago while working out in Ohio Stadium, Bernie stepped into a hole on the turf and sprained his ankle. He was Purdue's No. 1 quarterback, but saw less than a quarter of action against Ohio State.

One of Bernie's wishes was to see Purdue defeat Ohio State and he was the primary reason why the Boilermakers rolled Saturday.

It was Allen's 32-yard field goal that spelled the margin of victory Saturday at Ross Ade Stadium. He also kicked three consecutive extra points and his passes set up one touchdown.

Bernie only threw six times Saturday, but completed five for 85 yards.

—:—

WITH each defeat suffered by Ohio State, why does Hayes have to come up with excuses? Last week he blamed the officials, then slammed the door in the face of newsmen.

His actions Saturday at Lafayette were similar to post-game demonstrations which got him in hot water last season.

Saturday he said he couldn't understand a couple of key calls by officials and would not allow newsmen in the Ohio State dressing room after the loss to Purdue.

Why ELHS Punted On 3rd Down . . .

COACH Lou Venditti explained why East Liverpool punted on a third down situation in the third quarter of Friday's game with Youngstown Rayen.

The Potters were leading 6-0 at the time and the Potter coach didn't want to risk a gamble of passing on third down deep in his own territory.

The ball was on the Potter 26-yard line with third down and 8 yards to go. Venditti sent Cookie Goodballet into the game to do the punting.

Rather than risk a chance of a bad pass from center on fourth down, the Potter coach ordered Goodballet to kick on third down.

If there would have been a bad pass on third down, the Potters still would have had another down to punt out of their territory.

We feel it was sound football. But because the punt wasn't a good one, the play was questioned. And to make matters worse, Youngstown took over on the Potter 35 and marched for a touchdown.

A good punt would have set Rayen back in its own territory and the Potters would have been out of danger.

—:—

THE 1960 East Liverpool club is short on talent, but Venditti calls it the "greatest team I have ever coached."

The scene in the Potter dressing room after Friday's game pretty well told us how the team felt. A few were crying and all heads were lowered.

They were up against a good Rayen team and they spotted almost 40 pounds on the forward wall. It seemed East Liverpool had the game won late in the fourth quarter, but a sensational catch by a Rayen halfback in the last minute of the game turned victory into defeat.

The Potters had nothing to be ashamed of Friday night.

Man Of The 'H-Ours' . . .

IT'S NOT surprising that Wellsville football fans are singing the praises of Quarterback Roger Ours, who is leading the Tigers toward their only unbeaten season.

Statistics, exclusive of the Freedom game which ended in a 7-7 tie, show that Ours has completed 60 per cent of his passes, is averaging 7.4 yards per carry and is the team's leading scorer with 66 points on nine touchdowns and seven conversions.

Only a junior, Ours calls signals, runs and passes like a four-year veteran. Only one of his 45 attempted passes has been intercepted. He has completed 27.

Sure-handed and a smart runner who looks for his blockers, Ours has rolled up 600 yards in rushing, the longest a 66-yard touchdown dash. He's clever enough to go the distance most any time he rolls out on the option play.

Incidentally, Ours engineers the Tigers from behind the stellar line play of center Phil Baldwin, a smart, tough defender who should make a strong bid for All-Ohio honors.

This 'N That In Football . . .

IVAN TONCIC, former Midland High School University of Pittsburgh quarterback, is performing for the Duquesne Ironmen, defending champions in the American Football Conference. The Ironmen lost to the Massillon Stars, 19-6, over the weekend and Toncic set up the score by throwing a 31-yard pass to Bob Rathi.

—:—

RON MCLAUGHLIN of Beaver Local continued sailing towards the district scoring title after added 18 points Saturday to eclipse the 100-point mark. He now has 15 touchdowns and 14 extra points for 104.

His nearest competitor is Roger Ours of Wellsville. Ours added 36 points last Friday but failed to gain any ground on the Beaver Local star. The Wellsville quarterback shows 9 touchdowns and 14 conversion points for 68.

Jerry Bush of East Palestine is third with 62 while Salem's Ron Janovec has 66 points and Larry Webber of Fairfield - Waterford is fifth with 62.

The only change this week was the addition of Rick Bowling of Lisbon to the lists of top scorers. Bowling turned in the top performance of the week by scoring five touchdowns against Sebring. He has a total of 38 points for the season.

A breakdown on the top six follows:

	TD's	Con.	Total
McLaughlin (BL)	15	14	104
Ours (Wellsville)	9	14	68
Bush (E. Palestine)	8	14	62
Janovec (Salem)	7	4	46
Webber (F-W)	6	6	42
Bowling (Lisbon)	6	2	38

—:—

UP UNTIL the Ohio Wesleyan game last Saturday, Salineville's Larry Kessler, who has moved into the starting quarterback job at Mt. Union, had completed 16 of 34 aerials and three touchdowns.

—:—

WILLIS WOODS of East Palestine, who was an immediate hit when he enrolled at Thiel College, Pa., passed for two touchdowns in Thiel's 42-6 win over Case Tech.

Mixed Emotions . . .

WHAT TEAM to give his loyal support to — the World Champion Pittsburgh Pirates, Milwaukee's Braves or the Cleveland Indians — is a problem confronting an 8-year-old Newell fan.

Jackie Durham, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Carl Durham, 534 Grant St., finds his love of the champion Bucs threatened by unusual circumstances.

Jack received from Manager Charlie Dressen of Milwaukee a baseball autographed by the Brave players through Joe Verrone, a Waterford Park jockey who is a friend of Dressen.

The youngster also likes to root for the Indians in the American League as a physican at the Cleveland Clinic supplies him with free tickets on visits there.

Perhaps the Pirates winning the World Series will lead to his unwavering support but the autographed baseball has tempted him to lean towards Milwaukee, his parents report.

Jack is afflicted with rheumatoid arthritis.

National League Expands To 10 Teams

By JOE REICHLER

CHICAGO (AP) — The Associated Press learned today that the American League won't immediately follow the example set Monday by the National League when it committed itself to becoming a 10-team league in 1962 by granting franchises to Houston and New York City.

Instead, the American League, at its meeting scheduled for Oct. 26 in New York, will concentrate on settling its realignment problem.

A source close to Del Webb, head of the AL expansion committee, said the co-owner of the New York Yankees was "gravely concerned" over such problem cities as Kansas City, Washington and Cleveland.

"I think the American League might have to straighten out its realignment problem before it can take definite and positive steps on expansion," said the source.

According to the informant, the American League will discuss several possibilities:

1. The shifting of the Washington franchise to Minneapolis - St. Paul.

2. The desire of Hank Greenberg, part owner of the Chicago White Sox, to obtain a franchise in Washington.

3. The possibility of the Kansas City franchise being moved to Los Angeles.

"And don't overlook the possibility of the Cleveland club being moved elsewhere," added the informant. "I understand the operators of the Cleveland club are fed up. They're terribly disappointed with the attendance this year despite a club that was in contention until the last six weeks of the season."

The American League, at its last meeting in New York Aug. 30, voted to expand to 10 teams no later than Dec. 1, 1961, but did not discuss any new teams. It is understood Dallas-Fort Worth has the inside track for a franchise.

American League Is Not Ready To Go Along With Expansion

There are 17 other applicants, including Minneapolis-St. Paul, Toronto, Oakland, Seattle and San Diego.

The Kansas City club, owned by the widow of Arnold Johnson, who died last March, is expected to be sold in the near future. It is not known whether the new owners plan to remain or move the franchise elsewhere. The Athletics, by contract, are committed to remain in Kansas City for two more years unless the attendance falls short of the prescribed 850,000 in any season.

It is known that several American League owners want to move to Los Angeles immediately.

Dodger owner Walter O'Malley, who must approve of an AL franchise in his Los Angeles territory, said he would not oppose such a move. But he added he didn't think it would be a smart move at this time.

O'Malley reportedly is opposed to any AL move into Los Angeles before he has completed construction of a stadium in Chavez Ravine, a project that is not expected to be completed until 1962 at the earliest.

Should the American League decide to move to the coast, they may be able to override O'Malley's objection — if he should voice his opposition. Commissioner Ford Frick has been quoted as saying he will rule favorably should the two majors be deadlocked over the issue.

Frick may have to make such an unprecedented decision regarding New York should the American League oppose the National's return to that city.

"Should the American League sure that it will," said Giles, "then the commissioner would be vote 'no', and I am not at all called upon to cast the deciding vote.

"The commissioner has assured us that if we propose a rule to open New York's territory for a National League franchise, and assuming the American League would vote "no", he would vote with the National League."

Houston Takes Major League Bid In Stride

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Houston took all of that major league baseball business Monday rather calmly.

The city got into the major leagues—the National League to be exact—but there were no ticker tape parades, no dancing in the streets.

Still, there was an undercurrent of excitement that might break loose tonight when Craig Cullinan Jr., George Kirksey and Roy Hofheinz return home with the new franchise in a briefcase.

Plans for the welcoming reception started almost as soon as word of the franchise arrived.

The expansion in Houston focused new attention on the need for a county stadium.

"This is what Harris County has been waiting for," said Bill Kirkland, chairman of the county's Board of Park Commissioners.

"It is now up to the county park board to provide the stadium for major league baseball in Houston for 1962," he said.

Weirton Leads West Virginia Football Poll

East Jr.-Toronto Game Slated At New Field

The game between East Junior High and Toronto Wednesday at 4 p. m. will be played at the new field in East End located directly behind East Junior High.

That's the word from Gordon Elsmon, executive secretary of the West Virginia School Activities Commission.

There were several changes in the Class AAA standings. Logan slipped from second to ninth place after bowing to Barboursville, while Parkersburg, ranked fourth last week, dropped to 10th after its loss to Huntington over the weekend.

Defending champion Bluefield moved up from seventh in the runnerup spot behind Weirton. Clarksburg Victory jumped two notches to third place, replacing East Bank, which dropped into fourth place.

Others in the top 10 were Nitro at the fifth spot, followed in order by Morgantown, Grafton, Stonewall Jackson and then Logan.

There was a minor shuffle in Class AA, where Williamson and Milton remained at their respective second and third place positions. Sissonville moved up a notch to fourth and newcomer Sisco was next. Then came Clarksburg R-W, Gauley Bridge, Charles Town and Monongah. New Martinsville fell from fourth to 12th place in back of 13th-ranked Ravenswood.

The latest Class A ratings found Ridgeley second followed in order by Alderson, Harpers Ferry, Crum, Paden City, Barrackville and Buffalo of Putnam County.

Alex had a 12-6 mark with Palatka of the Florida League last season while Moorhead was 5-9 with Jersey City. Harper batted .254 and stole 28 bases.

Rally Set At Wellsville

Enthusiasm Reaches Peak For Tiger-Quaker Battle

Enthusiasm has reached an all-time high in Wellsville this week as the Tigers' hopes soared for their first unbeaten football season.

On the eve of this week's important battle with unbeaten Salem High School, the Carbstone Coaches are planning a huge victory rally and parade Thursday night.

The theme will be "Beat Salem—This is the Year."

A big bonfire will be the point of attraction as fans, civic and fraternal organizations participate in the rally at the parking lot of the American Legion Post 70 home.

The Wellsville High School band will parade from the school through town to the rally as will the Tiger cheerleaders.

The Carbstoners are anticipating the biggest victory demonstration of its kind in many years and will have the fire trucks standing by to assist with the bonfire.

The Tigers, who haven't whipped Salem since 1942, travel to Reilly Stadium in Salem Friday night and could conceivably finish the season unbeaten with a victory. The records stands at 5-0-1 at the present with three games left after the Quaker battle.

The Carbstoners will accompany the team to Salem and sit in a group. The "Holy Mothers!" cheering section will be led by Commander Hurd of the American Legion home. Earl Loughmyer will be assistant yell leader.

Beaver Local Jayvees Roll

Beaver Local's reserve team scored in each period to whip the Salineville Jayvees, 19-0, Monday.

Larry McLaughlin, brother of Ron McLaughlin, varsity star for Beaver Local, scored two touchdowns on a 10-yard sprint and a 25-yard pass play from John Broadbent.

Broadbent scored one touchdown himself on a quarterback sneak then passed to Pete Wilkinson for another touchdown covering 20 yards.

Fred Woodburn and Dave Durenburger rounded out the scoring with one TD each. The Beaver Local Reserves travel to New Waterford on Monday.

Massillon Remains On Top After Winning 19th Straight

Beaver Local 19th, Wellsville Is 20th

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Massillon still reigns today as Ohio's high school football king, but the Tigertown throne was a wobbly one for a while Friday night.

Coach Leo Strang's charges, winning their 19th straight, used Cincinnati Roger Bacon fumbles for a squeaky 8-0 verdict over the Spartans. One fumble on the Cincinnati 41 paved the way for the Massillon touchdown in the third quarter—and later the Spartans bobbled on Massillon's 3-yard line to squelch a touchdown threat.

So stirring was the Roger Bacon threat that the defeat didn't hurt the Spartans a bit in the weekly Associated Press poll. The Queen City powerhouse was sixth last week—and it clung to the same spot by almost doubling its poll-point total.

Alliance' 1958 champions, 50-26 winners over Cincinnati Elder's 12th-placers in another test of north-south power, moved into second place in the ratings—ready to take over if the Tigers falter.

The big upset of the weekend games was Dayton's Chaminade's 20 - 16 verdict over Springfield South's Wildcats who challenged Massillon for the title a year ago and were firmly entrenched in second place this season.

The defeat, Springfield's first in 18 games, dropped the Wildcats to fifth place as Alliance, Lima and Sandusky moved around them. Chaminade, which earlier had knocked Kettering Fairmont and Toledo St. Francis out of the Top Ten, moved from a 27th place tie into the eighth spot as a reward for its giant-killer role.

Salem's Quakers, unbeaten and untied in six starts with a 111-12 scoring record, were forced out of the Top Ten to make room for Chaminade as 43 sports writers cast ballots. Salem defeated Cleveland East 14-6 last week.

Lima Senior, 42-20 winner over Hamilton Taft, jumped from seventh to third; Sandusky clung to fourth with a 32-0 win over Fremont Ross; Niles McKinley dropped from fifth to ninth despite a 24-0 win over tough Cuyahoga Falls; Marion Harding graduated a notch to seventh with a 28-0 decision over Elyria; and Canton McKinley remained tenth although smothering Canton Lincoln 50-0.

Only Massillon, Sandusky and Niles of the Top Ten boast unblemished records, all 6-0. Lima and Marion tied each other, and the other five have lost one game.

Should Massillon cling to its top berth in the final ratings, the Tigers would win the first leg on their third Rutgers Hall of Fame Trophy emblematic of the state championship. The Stark County powerhouse has retired two of the trophies — which must be won three times for permanent possession. No other school has ever retired the trophy.

The Alliance - Cincinnati Elder first quarter was a five-touchdown job, the Aviators leading 22-14. Alliance fullback Hugh Wilson went 80 yards to score on the first play after the kickoff. The Aviators then kicked off, and on the first play Elder halfback Tom Bushman went 73 yards for a score. Four Alliance touchdowns were on Bobby Wallace passes.

Troy, only team to whip Dayton Chaminade, has two dangerous backs named Tommy. Tommy Vaughn has scored 20 touchdowns, and Tommy Myers has thrown 21 touchdown passes. Class A Covington has won six straight, the last five by shutouts, for a 294-13 scoring record.

Franklin's Bob Worrell got three touchdowns Friday for a season total of 140 points. East Liverpool's Kenny Cunningham completed 14 of 19 passes for 208 yards in the 14-12 loss to Youngstown Rayen.

Portsmouth East defeated Northwest (Scioto) 58-0 for its sixth straight—and still has an unblemished goal line. A Northwest field goal try hit the goal post and plopped back into the field of play.

Wyoming, with only a 0-0 tie marring it, has a 24-game winning streak. Hamilton Catholic defeated Newport Catholic 45-7 for its 17th in a row, and Jim Korb has scored in the last 15.

Elyria hasn't scored a point in losing four and tying two. The Red Dragons of Niles McKinley, coached by Tony Mason, have overpowered six foes by 226-31, top total in the Top Ten. The Dragons go against unbeaten Akron South this week.

Warren's Fred Caldwell scored on runs of 55 and 70 yards, set up another score with a 63-yard run, and gained 249 of the 345 rushing yards as unbeaten Cleveland Cathedral Latin was dropped 26-18.

Cardington's Doug Click ran for five touchdowns for the second straight week, boosting his point total to 100, as the team made it 18 in a row by 56-31 over Elm Valley. John Garberick scored three times for Bucyrus, for a season's total of 96 points.

Columbus Eastmoor got all its points in the last quarter to beat Central 28-20—the winner coming in the last eight seconds. Beaver Local's Ron McLaughlin has 104 points after a three-touchdown spree in Saturday's game. Martins Ferry, unbeaten in the last 19, has won 16 straight.

Mount Vernon lost 14-16 to Grandview, but senior halfback Dick Nethers kept his touchdown-a-game record intact. He's scored in 10 straight. Fremont St. Joe's 185-pound senior fullback, Fred Beier, came up with four Td's to beat Clyde 33-0, giving him 86 points in six wins. Teammate Bill Myers has a 76 total.

Marion Harding quarterback Larry Sims was busy against Elyria. He scored on runs of 12, 21 and 4 yards, and tossed a 37-yard pass for the other tally.

Paul Richards Is Named Manager Of Year In AL

NEW YORK (AP)—Paul Richards, whose Baltimore Orioles finished a surprising second, today was named American League Manager of the Year for 1960 in the annual Associated Press poll.

Richards drew 111 votes from the 193 baseball writers participating in the balloting. Cookie Lavagetto of Washington was next with 63 votes. Casey Stengel of the pennant-winning New York Yankees collected the remaining 19.

The Orioles, selected to finish fifth in the preseason Associated Press poll, remained in contention for first place until two weeks before the season's end when they dropped four straight games to the Yankees. They finished eight games behind New York.

The past season was Richards' sixth as the Orioles' pilot. The team's previous high during his tenure was fifth in 1957. Baltimore finished sixth in 1959, but showed immediate improvement this year with rookie help from first baseman Jim Gentile, second baseman Marv Breeding, shortstop Ron Hansen and right-handed pitcher Chuck Estrada.

Richards, 51, a native of Waxahachie, Tex., was a catcher for Brooklyn and New York of the National League and Philadelphia and Detroit in the American. He ended his big league playing career in 1946 and then managed Atlanta of the Southern Association, Buffalo of the International League and seattle of the PCL.

He managed the Chicago White Sox from 1951 until Sept. 14, 1954, when he resigned to accept the post as general manager and field manager of the Orioles. He gave up the general manager's job after the 1959 campaign.

Saumell Is Suspended 10 Days At Waterford

Jockey Francisco Saumell has been handed a 10-day suspension for rough riding which recently resulted in the disqualification of Seriously at Waterford Park. It will keep the track's leading rider out of action until the final two days of the current meeting which closes on Oct. 29.

Bown's Hans Captures First Place At Trial

Field Champion Bown's Hans owned by Charles White of the East Liverpool Beagle Club won first place at the trophy trial held by the Briar Patch Beagle Club Sunday.

It marked the 21st win for the champ. The qualifying trial was sanctioned by the American Kennel Club.

Renfro Listed As Doubtful For Next Tilt

CLEVELAND (AP)—Ray Renfro, Cleveland Browns flanking back, is on the doubtful list for the game here Sunday against the Philadelphia Eagles as a result of strained knee ligaments suffered in the Dallas game.

X-rays of Renfro's knee taken Monday were negative, but Dr. Vic Ippolito, team physician, wouldn't guess how long the fleet pass receiver may be out of action.

If Renfro is not ready for the Eagles, Leon Clarke probably will get the call at his spot. He finished the Dallas game Sunday after Renfro was injured in the first quarter.

Coach Paul Brown expressed the belief Monday night that Clarke can do the job if called on.

"We looked at the movies of our game in Dallas today and one of the pleasing aspects was Leon's blocking," he said. "I don't believe we'll know about Ray for three or four days."

Clarke was obtained from the Los Angeles Rams in exchange for Bob Long, an experienced linebacker. Clarke, in his fifth season of professional football, caught 29 passes for 453 yards last season.

Tackle Dick Schafrath complained of some pain after being hit in the ribs in the Dallas game, but X-rays Monday showed no fractures.

Bucks To Take It Easy Preparing For Badgers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State will take it easy this week preparing for Wisconsin—a team Coach Woody Hayes describes as one of the toughest on his schedule.

Woody figures his youngsters were tired and a bit overtrained last Saturday as they absorbed their frist loss of the campaign, 24-21 to underdog Purdue. He told his weekly press luncheon guests Monday that he had worked 'em pretty hard, nad that hot weather took a lot out of them. They didn't have the usual zing at game time."

Wisconsin's defending Big Ten champions also were beaten for the first time in four games last Saturday, 28-21 by Iowa's last-minute touchdown—so both teams should be on the rebound for this week's fray before 82,000 fans.

The Badgers, scout Esco Sarkkinen reported, are a much better team than the one which copped the crown a year ago and then was smothered in the Rose Bowl by Washington.

Quarterback Ron Miller, who dropped out of school in 1957 but is now back as a sophomore, is the big gun in the Badger attack. He has completed 48 of 87 passes for 713 yards and five touchdowns.

If the Bucks get by the Badgers it will be the first time in three years—the game winding up in a tie in 1958, and the Wisconsins winning 12-3 last year.

"Coach Milt Bruhn has done a remarkable job of rejuvenating the morale at Madison after the one-sided loss in the Rose Bowl," Hayes said.

"He has a much better team than in 1959, although 15 sophomores are among the first 33 on the squad. Only three Rose Bowl starters are back. We like to play Wisconsin, because the Badgers always play a clean, rough game, and they are always smart. We have great respect for them."

Woody said the loss to Purdue was mostly his fault, since he didn't have the kids in shape for an all-out effort. He also said the officials might be given an assist, since he couldn't understand some of the calls, but concluded:

"There's only one fellow to blame, and I'm it."

Massillon Remains On Top After Winning 19th Straight

Beaver Local 19th, Wellsville Is 20th

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Massillon still reigns today as Ohio's high school football king, but the Tigertown throne was a wobbly one for a while Friday night.

Coach Leo Strang's charges, winning their 19th straight, used Cincinnati Roger Bacon fumbles for a squeaky 8-0 verdict over the Spartans. One fumble on the Cincinnati 41 paved the way for the Massillon touchdown in the third quarter—and later the Spartans bobbled on Massillon's 3-yard line to squelch a touchdown threat.

So stirring was the Roger Bacon threat that the defeat didn't hurt the Spartans a bit in the weekly Associated Press poll. The Queen City powerhouse was sixth last week—and it clung to the same spot by almost doubling its poll-point total.

Alliance' 1958 champions, 50-26 winners over Cincinnati Elder's 12th-placers in another test of north-south power, moved into second place in the ratings—ready to take over if the Tigers falter.

The big upset of the weekend games was Dayton's Chaminade's 20 - 16 verdict over Springfield South's Wildcats who challenged Massillon for the title a year ago and were firmly entrenched in second place this season.

The defeat, Springfield's first in 18 games, dropped the Wildcats to fifth place as Alliance, Lima and Sandusky moved around them. Chaminade, which earlier had knocked Kettering Fairmont and Toledo St. Francis out of the Top Ten, moved from a 27th place tie into the eighth spot as a reward for its giant-killer role.

Salem's Quakers, unbeaten and untied in six starts with a 111-12 scoring record, were forced out of the Top Ten to make room for Chaminade as 43 sports writers cast ballots. Salem defeated Cleveland East 14-6 last week.

Lima Senior, 42-20 winner over Hamilton Taft, jumped from seventh to third; Sandusky clung to fourth with a 32-0 win over Fremont Ross; Niles McKinley dropped from fifth to ninth despite a 34-0 win over tough Cuyahoga Falls; Marion Harding graduated a notch to seventh with a 28-0 decision over Elyria; and Canton McKinley remained tenth although smothering Canton Lincoln 39-0.

Only Massillon, Sandusky and Niles of the Top Ten boast unblemished records, all 6-0. Lima and Marion tied each other, and the other five have lost one game.

Should Massillon cling to its top berth in the final ratings, the Tigers would win the first leg on their third Rutgers Hall of Fame Trophy emblematic of the state championship. The Stark County powerhouse has retired two of the trophies — which must be won three times for permanent possession. No other school has ever retired the trophy.

The Alliance - Cincinnati Elder first quarter was a five-touchdown job, the Aviators leading 22-14. Alliance fullback Hugh Wilson went 80 yards to score on the first play after the kickoff. The Aviators then kicked off, and on the first play Elder halfback Tom Bushman went 73 yards for a score. Four Alliance touchdowns were on Bobby Wallace passes.

Troy, only team to whip Dayton Chaminade, has two dangerous backs named Tommy. Tommy Vaughn has scored 30 touchdowns, and Tommy Myers has thrown 21 touchdown passes. Class A Covington has won six straight, the last five by shutouts, for a 208-13 scoring record.

Franklin's Bob Worrell got three touchdowns Friday for a season total of 140 points. East Liverpool's Kenny Cunningham completed 14 of 19 passes for 208 yards in the 34-12 loss to Youngstown Rayen.

Portsmouth East defeated Northwest (Scioto) 58-0 for its sixth straight—and still has an unblemished goal line. A Northwest field goal try hit the goal post and plopped back into the field of play.

Wyoming, with only a 0-0 tie marring it, has a 24-game winning streak. Hamilton Catholic defeated Newport Catholic 45-7 for its 17th in a row, and Jim Korb has scored in the last 15.

Elyria hasn't scored a point in losing four and tying two. The Red Dragons of Niles McKinley, coached by Tony Mason, have overpowered six foes by 226-31, top total in the Top Ten. The Dragons go against unbeaten Akron South this week.

Warren's Fred Caldwell scored on runs of 55 and 70 yards, set up another score with a 63-yard run, and gained 249 of the 345 rushing yards as unbeaten Cleveland Cathedral Latin was dropped 26-18.

Cardington's Doug Click ran for five touchdowns for the second straight week, boosting his point total to 109, as the team made it 18 in a row by 56-31 over Elm Valley. John Garberick scored three times for Bucyrus, for a season's total of 98 points.

Columbus Eastmoor got all its points in the last quarter to beat Central 20-20—the winner coming in the last eight seconds. Beaver Local's Ron McLaughlin has 104 points after a three-touchdown spree in Saturday's game. Martins Ferry, unbeaten in the last 19, has won 16 straight.

Mount Vernon lost 14-16 to Grandview, but senior halfback Dick Nethers kept his touchdown-a-game record intact. He's scored in 10 straight. Fremont St. Joe's 185-pound senior fullback, Fred Beier, came up with four Td's to beat Clyde 33-0, giving him 86 points in six wins. Teammate Bill Myers has a 76 total.

Marion Harding quarterback Larry Sims was busy against Elyria. He scored on runs of 12, 21 and 4 yards, and tossed a 37-yard pass for the other tally.

Here's How Ohio Teams Were Rated

Paul Richards Is Named Manager Of Year In AL

NEW YORK (AP)—Paul Richards, whose Baltimore Orioles finished a surprising second, today was named American League Manager of the Year for 1960 in the annual Associated Press poll.

Richards drew 111 votes from the 193 baseball writers participating in the balloting. Cookie Lavagetto of Washington was next with 63 votes. Casey Stengel of the pennant-winning New York Yankees collected the remaining 19.

The Orioles, selected to finish fifth in the preseason Associated Press poll, remained in contention for first place until two weeks before the season's end when they dropped four straight games to the Yankees. They finished eight games behind New York.

The past season was Richards' sixth as the Orioles' pilot. The team's previous high during his tenure was fifth in 1957. Baltimore finished sixth in 1959, but showed immediate improvement this year with rookie help from first baseman Jim Gentile, second baseman Marv Breeding, shortstop Ron Hansen and right-handed pitcher Chuck Estrada.

Richards, 51, a native of Waxahachie, Tex., was a catcher for Brooklyn and New York of the National League and Philadelphia and Detroit in the American. He ended his big league playing career in 1946 and then managed Atlanta of the Southern Association, Buffalo of the International League and seattle of the PCL.

He managed the Chicago White Sox from 1951 until Sept. 14, 1954, when he resigned to accept the post as general manager and field manager of the Orioles. He gave up the general manager's job after the 1959 campaign.

Renfro Listed As Doubtful For Next Tilt

CLEVELAND (AP)—Ray Renfro, Cleveland Browns flanking back, is on the doubtful list for the game here Sunday against the Philadelphia Eagles as a result of strained knee ligaments suffered in the Dallas game.

X-rays of Renfro's knee taken Monday were negative, but Dr. Vic Ippolito, team physician, wouldn't guess how long the fleet pass receiver may be out of action.

If Renfro is not ready for the Eagles, Leon Clarke probably will get the call at his spot. He finished the Dallas game Sunday after Renfro was injured in the first quarter.

Coach Paul Brown expressed the belief Monday night that Clarke can do the job if called on.

"We looked at the movies of our game in Dallas today and one of the pleasing aspects was Leon's blocking," he said. "I don't believe we'll know about Ray for three or four days."

Clarke was obtained from the Los Angeles Rams in exchange for Bob Long, an experienced linebacker. Clarke, in his fifth season of professional football, caught 29 passes for 453 yards last season.

Tackle Dick Schafrath complained of some pain after being hit in the ribs in the Dallas game, but X-rays Monday showed no fractures.

New Home Found On Library Lawn For Old City Bell

A "transient" in its own home town for years, the big bell which once hung atop the old City Hall at 3rd and Market Sts. may have found a permanent home at last.

Council voted Monday night to accept an offer from the East Liverpool Historical Society to place the bell on the lawn at the Carnegie Public Library, where the historical society maintains its museum.

For many years, the old bell sat in a vacant city-owned lot on the northeast corner of 3rd and Market Sts. — across the street from the former City Hall site. At one time the Military Order of the Cootie maintained a planted area of flowers around the bell.

But in 1959 the ground was converted into an off-street parking lot and the bell was shunted to city-owned property on E. 2nd St. at Washington St., former site of the 2nd St. Playground. Now the city is getting ready to use the tract as the site for a maintenance and storage garage and the bell must be moved again.

At its meeting Oct. 3, Council suggested that Safety-Service Director Lee Copehaver find a storage spot for the bell. The director reported last night that H. B. Barth, curator of the museum, has offered to place the bell on a new foundation on the library lawn, where it will be maintained constantly.

Trial Continues For Pair Charged In Escape Effort

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The trial of two men on jail escape charges went into its second day in federal court today.

The two men—Daniel J. Koenig, 27, of Miami, Fla., and Charles F. Waugaman, 26, of Pittsburgh—are facing federal charges of attempted escape and conspiracy to escape for allegedly trying to break out of the federal section of Columbus City Prison last June 1.

Koenig and Waugaman are also accused of the $38,000 robbery of a Yorkville, Ohio, bank Aug. 22, 1959, but no trial date has been set for that charge.

The trial got underway Monday with a series of brief courtroom arguments.

One of them occurred when the two defendants were brought in the courtroom handcuffed. Defense attorney George T. Gareff objected, and Judge Mell G. Underwood sustained the objection, saying that the defendants were not to enter the courtroom in handcuffs during the remainder of the trial.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My fiancee has insomnia and thinks just because she can't sleep nobody else should. We're together five evenings a week. The minute I get home the phone is ringing. She wants "to talk."

Some nights she phones back two and three times. She reads stuff out of the newspaper, passages from books and articles and sometimes she sings a few songs.

Last night she called at 2:30 a.m. —said she couldn't sleep trying to think of the vice president in Millard Fillmore's administration.

What can I do? We aren't kids, Ann; I'm 29 and she's 27. I need advice from a well-rested person. I am—BEAT.

-:-

Dear Beat: This is more than simple insomnia—she's a compulsive talker and a little on the sadistic side.

Your fiancee needs more help than you can give her by just being a patient listener. Suggest that she see a doctor. In the meantime, you ought to see the phone company about a wall jack so you can plug her out.

P.S.: Millard Fillmore didn't have a vice president. He became president when Zachary Taylor died in office.

Father Knew Best

Dear Ann: My father used to say, "If you want to know what kind of a housekeeper a girl will be—look at her mother's house." I wish I had listened to him.

Six years ago I married a girl whose mother was the All-Time-Prize-Winning-Slob. When I went to call on Wilma it was like walking into a pig pen. Once I recall a dining room window had been broken and they stuffed newspapers in the opening. It stayed that way for five months.

I travel for a living and when I come home I have to spend two days cleaning the house, so I can live in it. My wife says if I'm such a screwball it's up to me. She doesn't see the filth so it doesn't bother her.

Last week I was down to my last set of underwear and I had to buy shorts to leave town. We have two children but they don't interfere with her going back to bed in the morning and sleeping till noon. What can I do?—FED UP PLENTY.

-:-

Dear Fed: If this Second Generation Slob is blind to the filth, you can't improve her vision so don't waste your time.

Hire a cleaning lady a few days a week and instruct her personally. A poor housekeeper can't tell a cleaning woman how to clean because she doesn't know how.

The Bride's Right

Dear Ann: Please don't make a joke out of this as my two unmarried sisters have. I'm a woman 44 who has never been married and now the man I have dreamed of all my life has come along. He lost his wife six years ago and we started to go together last march.

I want to have a small church wedding and, Ann, I want to wear a white satin gown and veil.

My sisters say I will be the laughing stock of the town if I dress like a bride at my age. Also, they say when a woman marries a widower she doesn't have the right. Please give me some advice.—IN LOVE AT LAST.

-:-

Dear In Love: A woman who has never been married has the right to wear white, regardless of her age. The obvious exception: No white gown if she has had a child out of wedlock. Best wishes.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

New Stop Sign And 3rd Lane Win Approval

The street committee's recommendations for a 90-day trial of traffic changes at 2 downtown intersections won City Council's approval Monday night.

Councilman John Kelly, chairman of the committee, recommended establishment of a four - way stop at E. 4th and Walnut Sts. and asked Council to confirm a change already put into effect on Walnut St. at Bradshaw Ave., establishing a third lane to expedite right turns.

Both proposals were approved unanimously. Establishing the third lane adjoining the curb on Walnut St. will permit motorists to make a right turn onto Bradshaw Ave. whether the traffic signal at the intersection shows red or green, Kelly explained.

The committee hopes the change will expedite traffic during rush hours and encourage some motorists to use Bradshaw Ave. as an alternate to busy Pennsylvania Ave., he said. The center lane will be used for traffic proceeding straight through the intersection, he explained.

A two-way stop now is in effect at E. 4th and Walnut Sts. It requires E. 4th traffic to yield to Walnut St. vehicles.

In other business, Council authorized the ordinance committee to present legislation at the meeting Nov. 7 to permit the administration to call for bids on furnishing and maintaining a two-way radio system for the police department.

A change in the radio system has been under study since early in the year, as the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. notified Council a Federal Court order requires it to give up contracts under which it furnishes and maintains public service radio systems.

The present arrangement must be terminated early in 1961. At present, Ohio Bell owns the radio system, leasing it to the city and providing service for about $200 monthly.

In other business, Council approved a report of Councilman Robert Laughlin, claims committee chairman, rejecting two bills filed against the city.

Robert Bailey of Bank St. had sought $10 for a tire which he said blew out when his car hit a manhole cover on Maine Blvd. Mrs. Beulah Spahr of McKinnon Ave. asked $75 for damage in her home she said was caused when a sewer backed up into the cellar.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Survey Made Of Gifted Youths

The eyes of the nation, especially of educational leaders, have been turning toward the intellectually-gifted youth and ways of helping him develop his capacities.

Dr. Garry Meyers

In the spring of 1956, high school principals the nation over nominated a total of 58,000 senior students to take the college entrance Examination Board Scholastic Test in competition for college scholarships. These 58,000 students constituted 6 per cent of the national population of high school seniors. Over 5,000 of the highest-scoring students were subsequently rated on rank in class, breadth of interest, motivation, accomplishments, personality and leadership potential.

—:—

A SELECTION committee, using the various ratings and the scores on the scholastic aptitude tests, then designated as National Merit Scholars the 556 contestants considered to show the greatest promise of achievement in college. The remaining 5,000 were awarded certificates of merit.

Then a further study was made of 659 boys and 259 girls selected from the total of the 5,556 gifted students, applying available objective personality tests on them in comparison with scores by the same tests on unselected college students of the University of California and University of Michigan. A report of this study by Jonathan R. Warren and Paul A. Heist appeared in "Science" for August, 1960.

The attribute which most sharply differentiates the gifted of both sexes is "a strong disposition toward intellectual activity. . .a liking for reflective and abstract thought; interest in ideas. . .and a positive, functional approach to scholarly pursuits." The gifted seem to be "independent, confident, and generally mature in their interactions with the external world.

AS COMPARED to the normative groups, they have more complex perceptions and reactions. They are less authoritative and less rigid, to the extent that many are free to become 'risk-takers' in the world of ideas. Most of them also react with greater originality, imagination and resourcefulness to the stimulation they receive.

Although intellectually imaginative, critical, some rebellious, and free to express themselves, the gifted are neither as emotionally expressive nor as impulsive as the average individual. The gifted men, in fact, appear more socially oriented than do unselected college men.

"In neither sex is there a higher incidence of emotional disturbance or adjustment difficulties among the gifted than is found in the general college preparation."

Earlier studies by Hollingsworth, Terman and others reveal that gifted children identified in college, high school and upper grades were reported by their parents to evince marked precocity at four, five or six.

But there are no conclusive studies which support the usual guess that any child gifted at three, four or five will continue to reveal giftedness at school, at eight, 12 or 20. Certainly not all gifted infants realize their mental potentialities during their school life.

Elderly Man Injured In Fall Among 10 Listed At Hospital

A 77-year-old city man hurt in a fall at West Point was admitted Monday to City Hospital where nine adults and youngsters were treated yesterday after separate mishaps.

Leslie Conn of Wyoming Ave. is in "fair" condition today with a possible fracture of the left leg suffered when he fell while stepping from a curb at West Point where he was visiting yesterday.

Mike Glover, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Glover of Church St., Chester, and Richard Bryer, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bryer of Church St., were treated for cuts and abrasions suffered in a fall from a bicycle on Indiana Ave.

Mrs. Ruth Hoffman of Purinton St. was treated for a laceration of a finger of the left hand received on a knife at home.

While playing football at Beaver Local, Charles Manning, 15, son of Mrs. Dorothy Manning of Water St., Salineville, received a possible fracture of the left leg.

Alice Palmer, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Palmer of R. D. 2, was treated for a cut of the arm received on a milk bottle.

Pamela Neuch, 4, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Neuch of Mulberry St., suffered a cut of the head when she ran into a door.

Cathy Allen, 4, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Allen of N. Surrey Rd., suffered a cut of the chin in a fall while riding a bicycle.

Struck on the head with an electric iron, Hazel Cochran, 4-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Cochran of Oakmont, received a laceration of the scalp.

Frances Larkins, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Larkins of East Liverpool, was treated for bruises of the hand and arm received when caught in a wringer.

Lias Gets New Delay In Deportation Fight

WASHINGTON — William G. (Big Bill) Lias, former underworld kingpin of Wheeling, Monday got another delay in his seven years long fight to avoid deportation to Greece.

Lias insists he was born in Wheeling 60 years ago. The government says he was born in Greece and came to America when around six years old. It wants to deport him because as a felon, the result of a bootlegging conviction 30 years ago, on grounds he left the United States on a visit to Canada and he re-entered.

The Immigration Department ordered him deported but an appeal to the U. S. District Court of appeals here won for Lias the right to present again all of his claims of citizenship.

The district attorney had a motion pending to fix the date of this trial for the fall term of court and the defense a motion to take testimony of the archbishop of Greece in Greece.

The court postponed a hearing on these motions until November 4, and named Judge George L. Hart to conduct the proceedings.

Court attendants said that probably means the trial now can't be set until next year.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I remove rust stains from white washables?

A. Cover with cream of tartar, gather up the ends of the articles so the powder stays on the spot as though it were in the bottom of a sack. Then dip the whole thing into hot water for five minutes. Ordinary laundering completes the job. In the case of silks and woolens, very often nothing will do much good in removing rust stains.

Q. How can I make the job of kindling a fire in my barbecue pit easier?

A. By use of a brick soaked in kerosene. Put the brick to soak a day or two in advance, then use this in place of kindling wood. It will burn for a long time and will keep your fire going even when your fuel is damp.

Q. How can I extract a stronger light from a reading lamp?

A. If you'll paint the inside of the parchment shade with a thin coat of white paint, you'll magnify the light from the lamp.

Woman Told Stamps Are Not Legal Tender

CHESTERFIELD, Va. (AP)—Commonwealth's Atty. Ernest Gates has some bad news for a woman who found what she thought was a painless way to pay delinquent taxes.

She mailed a big batch of the trading stamps to the county treasurer in payment of property taxes due for 1956.

Gates ruled they're not legal tender and County Treasurer George W. Moore Jr. is going to mail them right back.

'Story Hours' Set At Library

Mrs. Hilda McEwen, children's librarian at Carnegie Public Library, today announced plans for the opening of the Pre-School Story Hour for the fall season.

The program will open Wednesday and will continue for six weeks — through Nov. 26. There will be two sessions each Wednesday to accomodate the youngsters, with the morning group starting at 10 and the afternoon session starting at 2. Mrs. McEwen will be assisted by Mrs. Anne Triguba, song leader.

The theme for the series is taken from a popular picture book by Louis Slobodkin, "Hats for Sale." Each child will be given a black paper cap and when this is placed on the head it is the sign for silence. The program always includes a famous nursery tale and the story slated for the first program is "Goldilocks and the Three Bears."

The program is intended for children 3 to 6. Parents who wish to register their youngsters should phone the library to let the staff know which session the child will attend. Registration for each session is limited to 40 because of lack of seating space.

Program Planned At Salineville On Telephone's Role

A special program on the telephone's role in everyday life and national defense will be given in the Salineville High School auditorium Wednesday night at 7:30 by the Ohio Bell Telephone Co.

T. Fred Edwards, commercial manager of the local exchange, said the 90-minute program will be featured by a movie and a long distance call to the North American Air Defense Command at Colorado Springs.

It is the first of its type anywhere in the state. All residents of the area are invited, Edwards said. He termed the program "Outstanding" and added that: "Ohio Bell is pulling out all the stops."

The program was arranged with the cooperation of civic and school officials. It includes a stage presentation of about 90 minutes featuring a local telephone team, lecture-demonstrations by Ohio Bell speakers on recent advancements in science and research and the system's part in continental research.

The movie is a new 30-minute sound color film, "Seconds for Survival." The PTA will serve refreshments.

"Salineville Telephone Community Night is an opportunity for the people of the area to learn more about how their telephone system operates, what new advances will be coming up and the important part we play in defense of the nation,," Edwards said.

The program Wednesday night will be for adults. The program was presented to students of the Southern Local School District today and another will be presented Wednesday in the school.

5 New Firemen Are Suspended

MEDINA, Ohio (AP) — Brunswick City Council Monday night suspended five newly appointed firemen 15 days for their action in helping the village's volunteer firemen over the weekend in a dispute with the mayor.

Mayor John Dinda, who said the suspensions began Monday night, instructed acting fire chief Harry V. Mulcahy, a retired Cleveland fire captain, to begin instruction classes immediately for 24 additional volunteer firemen.

Council also agreed to purchase $970 worth of new radio equipment to replace equipment taken from the village's fire truck Sunday by 15 members of the Brunswick Firemen's Association, a volunteer group.

The firemen, attending another meeting, offered their services to Brunswick Hills Twp.

The dispute began earlier this month when the mayor appointed some of the volunteers to become regular firemen, but turned down the remainder of the 30-man group.

New Stop Sign And 3rd Lane Win Approval

The street committee's recommendations for a 90-day trial of traffic changes at 2 downtown intersections won City Council's approval Monday night.

Councilman John Kelly, chairman of the committee, recommended establishment of a four - way stop at E. 4th and Walnut Sts. and asked Council to confirm a change already put into effect on Walnut St. at Bradshaw Ave., establishing a third lane to expedite right turns.

Both proposals were approved unanimously. Establishing the third lane adjoining the curb on Walnut St. will permit motorists to make a right turn onto Bradshaw Ave. whether the traffic signal at the intersection shows red or green, Kelly explained.

The committee hopes the change will expedite traffic during rush hours and encourage some motorists to use Bradshaw Ave. as an alternate to busy Pennsylvania Ave., he said. The center lane will be used for traffic proceeding straight through the intersection, he explained.

A two-way stop now is in effect at E. 4th and Walnut Sts. It requires E. 4th traffic to yield to Walnut St. vehicles.

In other business, Council authorized the ordinance committee to present legislation at the meeting Nov. 7 to permit the administration to call for bids on furnishing and maintaining a two-way radio system for the police department.

A change in the radio system has been under study since early in the year, as the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. notified Council a Federal Court order requires it to give up contracts under which it furnishes and maintains public service radio systems.

The present arrangement must be terminated early in 1961. At present, Ohio Bell owns the radio system, leasing it to the city and providing service for about $200 monthly.

In other business, Council approved a report of Councilman Robert Laughlin, claims committee chairman, rejecting two bills filed against the city.

Robert Bailey of Bank St. had sought $10 for a tire which he said blew out when his car hit a manhole cover on Maine Blvd. Mrs. Beulah Spahr of McKinnon Ave. asked $75 for damage in her home she said was caused when a sewer backed up into the cellar.

Out Of The Air

By MARIE TORRE

Is Pay Television Closer?

Remembering how television blossomed once show business greats embraced the medium, we wonder whether pay television can be far behind now that it's captured both the imagination and the professional services of a showman of note, the medium's first!

Marie Torre

It happened last week. Leland Hayward, long associated with the best in television, as well as the cinema and the legitimate theater, entered into an agreement with Teco, Inc., an Illinois corporation which has been licensed by Zenith Radio Corp. to engage in subscription television operations using Zenith's Phonovision system.

The association with Mr. Hayward will permit Teco to become one of the suppliers of quality programs for the proposed three-year test of Phonevision's over-the-air system in Hartford, Conn., pending authorization by the Federal communications Commission, which begins hearings on the matter this week.

PROTOCOL causes Mr. Hayward to keep plans of his programming under wraps until the FCC decision is handed down, but he's quite open about his enthusiasm for pay television.

"Plainly stated, I'm wild about it," Hayward remarked. "If we can produce entertainment people would be willing to buy, and I don't see why we shouldn't, the subscription TV system will give us the largest number of box office customers show business ever has had.

"If you translate this in terms of new opportunities for creating entertainment, we may well be standing on the threshold of a completely new era in entertainment."

Mr. Hayward's new affiliation may cause some consternation at CBS, one of the leading free-television purveyors, to whom he's contractually bound through the next 18 months. But Hayward himself doesn't see that there's any conflict.

-:-

"THERE'S A RUMOR making the rounds that pay television is going to compete with what we know as popular TV, or abolish it completely," he continued.

"This isn't true. If and when the Hartford test is approved, I hope to produce for free TV occasionally, just as I've done over the years. I think there's room for both. I think we'll still have programs we're now getting on TV, though I'm not sure I fully approve of all we're getting.

"Anyway, I see pay TV as a system that will permit the medium to do what free TV can't do—experiment and produce shows that would appeal to specialized groups. We may not get the ratings in pay TV that a Jackie Gleason may pull on free TV, but certainly enough to make the ventures profitable.

The Hayward appointment undoubtedly will spur other associations between legitimate showmen and pay TV interests.

"My own opinion is that showmen are going to flock to the system," said Hayward. "It's appealing to showmen, more so than free TV, where you have to hit a home run every time you step up to bat."

-:-

AN ADDITION to the long list of actors who've portrayed Franklin D. Roosevelt is Art Carney who'll appear as the former president in "The Right Man," next Monday's special on CBS. Carney, who claims he got his start in radio by impersonating Roosevelt, will re-create the dramatic moment in Boston in 1940, when Roosevelt defined Americanism to a wildly cheering crowd. . . .

Next subject to be explored by "CBS Reports" Oct. 27 will be America's control of her wealth. . . .

Say what we will about the Western weariness, the American Research Bureau's Top 10 lists horse operas in the first three positions — "Gunsmoke," "Have Gun, Will Travel" and "Wagon Train," in that order.

Detroit Coach Says No Radical Changes Planned

DETROIT (AP) — "We can't afford to get panicky," said George Wilson. "We're not going to make any radical changes just because people are yelling at us for losing."

The Detroit Lions' coach has blamed his team's three losses on first, a superior team, second, poor officiating, and third, ineffective quarterbacking.

Winless in three starts, the Lions now must get ready for the invasion of the defending world champion Baltimore Colts.

Wilson announced he will stick with the same lineup, including Jim Ninowski at quarterback. The alternatives at quarterback are Earl Morrall and rookie Warran Rabb.

Wilson and his staff are on the spot after winning only seven of 27 National Football League games since the Lions won everything in Wilson's first season as coach.

But all of them got a vote of confidence Monday from President-General Manager Edwin J. Anderson.

"I haven't given up on the coaching staff," Anderson told the Lions' Fan Club weekly luncheon. "And I haven't given up on our players. We're going to win some games."

Anderson said he is inclined to shrug off the first three losses as "part of the breaks of the game."

Ram Coach Cited For Criticizing Officials In Game

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The National Football League has taken disciplinary action against Ram Coach Bob Waterfield for his criticism of the officiating in the Ram-Chicago Bears game.

Waterfield told the Football Writers Association Monday that Commissioner Pete Rozelle had disciplined him for censuring officials when they disregarded his protests over the jamming of Ram offensive signals. He didn't say what the disciplinary action was.

Waterfield said he told the officials several times that the Bears were mocking the Rams' signal for the offensive charge. Waterfield said this caused illegal procedure calls.

Shortly after the Bear game in Chicago, Waterfield sounded off to the press. In doing so, he told reporters he had subjected himself to a $200 fine.

Match Play Begins In North-South Seniors

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — Comedalist Martin F. McCarthy faces former U.S. Golf Association seniors champion Thomas Robbins today in a feature of the first day of match play in the North & South Seniors Golf Tournament.

McCarthy, of Chevy Chase, Md., and James T. Kirkpatrick of Manchester, Conn., fired two-under-par 70s in Monday's qualifying at the Pinehurst Country Club for co-medal honors.

Jury Decision Waited In Extortion Plot Case

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — A grand jury's decision is expected Wednesday in a case involving charges by two American League umpires that they were targets of an extortion plot.

One of the umpires, Bill McKinley, testified before the Anne Arundel County panel Monday.

McKinley and Ed Runge earlier told police two men and a night club dancer were involved in a plot to extort $2,000 from them.

Titans' Dorow Again AFL's Player Of Week

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Al Dorow of the New York Titans today became the first two-time winner of the American Football League's award for player of the week on offense.

The 195-pound quarterback was voted the honor by AFL writers for his performance in the Titans' 17-13 victory over the Buffalo Bills Sunday.

Dorow passed for one touchdown in the first period and then passed or rushed for all but six yards in a 50-yard drive that produced New York's winning TD.

He first won the award two weeks ago.

After Dawn Captures Feature Class C Pace

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—After Dawn, owned by Grace Angus of Delaware, Ohio, won the feature race for Class C pacers Monday night at Scioto Downs in 2:05 2-5.

Driven by Charles Angus, the 6-year-old gelding had little trouble after taking the early lead and won by a length over Mc's First. After Dawn returned $5.80.

Expediter, a 4-year-old gelding owned by Mrs. W. E. Flynn of Chillicothe, posted his first win in 35 starts in startling fashion as a 30-1 shot in another Class C pace.

4 Employes To Face Trial In Strike Case

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — Four employes of Philip Carey Co. face separate jury trials in Municipal Court this week on charges of assault and battery stemming from strike violence last month. A fifth, Neil Blankenship, 18, Middletown, was convicted on a similar charge Monday by a jury. Judge J. T. Lamb did not sentence him immediately.

The United Auto Workers union went on strike against the plant Sept. 6 in a contract dispute.

Out Of The Air

By MARIE TORRE

Is Pay Television Closer?

Remembering how television blossomed once show business greats embraced the medium, we wonder whether pay television can be far behind now that it's captured both the imagination and the professional services of a showman of note, the medium's first!

Marie Torre

It happened last week. Leland Hayward, long associated with the best in television, as well as the cinema and the legitimate theater, entered into an agreement with Teco, Inc., an Illinois corporation which has been licensed by Zenith Radio Corp. to engage in subscription television operations using Zenith's Phonovision system.

The association with Mr. Hayward will permit Teco to become one of the suppliers of quality programs for the proposed three-year test of Phonevision's over-the-air system in Hartford, Conn., pending authorization by the Federal communications Commission, which begins hearings on the matter this week.

PROTOCOL causes Mr. Hayward to keep plans of his programming under wraps until the FCC decision is handed down, but he's quite open about his enthusiasm for pay television.

"Plainly stated, I'm wild about it," Hayward remarked. "If we can produce entertainment people would be willing to buy, and I don't see why we shouldn't, the subscription TV system will give us the largest number of box office customers show business ever has had.

"If you translate this in terms of new opportunities for creating entertainment, we may well be standing on the threshold of a completely new era in entertainment."

Mr. Hayward's new affiliation may cause some consternation at CBS, one of the leading free-television purveyors, to whom he's contractually bound through the next 18 months. But Hayward himself doesn't see that there's any conflict.

-:-

"THERE'S A RUMOR making the rounds that pay television is going to compete with what we know as popular TV, or abolish it completely," he continued.

"This isn't true. If and when the Hartford test is approved, I hope to produce for free TV occasionally, just as I've done over the years. I think there's room for both. I think we'll still have programs we're now getting on TV, though I'm not sure I fully approve of all we're getting.

"Anyway, I see pay TV as a system that will permit the medium to do what free TV can't do—experiment and produce shows that would appeal to specialized groups. We may not get the ratings in pay TV that a Jackie Gleason may pull on free TV, but certainly enough to make the ventures profitable.

The Hayward appointment undoubtedly will spur other associations between legitimate showmen and pay TV interests.

"My own opinion is that showmen are going to flock to the system," said Hayward. "It's appealing to showmen, more so than free TV, where you have to hit a home run every time you step up to bat."

-:-

AN ADDITION to the long list of actors who've portrayed Franklin D. Roosevelt is Art Carney who'll appear as the former president in "The Right Man," next Monday's special on CBS. Carney, who claims he got his start in radio by impersonating Roosevelt, will re-create the dramatic moment in Boston in 1940, when Roosevelt defined Americanism to a wildly cheering crowd. . . .

Next subject to be explored by "CBS Reports" Oct. 27 will be America's control of her wealth. . . .

Say what we will about the Western weariness, the American Research Bureau's Top 10 lists horse operas in the first three positions — "Gunsmoke," "Have Gun, Will Travel" and "Wagon Train," in that order.

Detroit Coach Says No Radical Changes Planned

DETROIT (AP) — "We can't afford to get panicky," said George Wilson. "We're not going to make any radical changes just because people are yelling at us for losing."

The Detroit Lions' coach has blamed his team's three losses on first, a superior team, second, poor officiating, and third, ineffective quarterbacking.

Winless in three starts, the Lions now must get ready for the invasion of the defending world champion Baltimore Colts.

Wilson announced he will stick with the same lineup, including Jim Ninowski at quarterback. The alternatives at quarterback are Earl Morrall and rookie Warran Rabb.

Wilson and his staff are on the spot after winning only seven of 27 National Football League games since the Lions won everything in Wilson's first season as coach.

But all of them got a vote of confidence Monday from President-General Manager Edwin J. Anderson.

"I haven't given up on the coaching staff," Anderson told the Lions' Fan Club weekly luncheon. "And I haven't given up on our players. We're going to win some games."

Anderson said he is inclined to shrug off the first three losses as "part of the breaks of the game."

Ram Coach Cited For Criticizing Officials In Game

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The National Football League has taken disciplinary action against Ram Coach Bob Waterfield for his criticism of the officiating in the Ram-Chicago Bears game.

Waterfield told the Football Writers Association Monday that Commissioner Pete Rozelle had disciplined him for censuring officials when they disregarded his protests over the jamming of Ram offensive signals. He didn't say what the disciplinary action was.

Waterfield said he told the officials several times that the Bears were mocking the Rams' signal for the offensive charge. Waterfield said this caused illegal procedure calls.

Shortly after the Bear game in Chicago, Waterfield sounded off to the press. In doing so, he told reporters he had subjected himself to a $200 fine.

Match Play Begins In North-South Seniors

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — Comedalist Martin F. McCarthy faces former U.S. Golf Association seniors champion Thomas Robbins today in a feature of the first day of match play in the North & South Seniors Golf Tournament.

McCarthy, of Chevy Chase, Md., and James T. Kirkpatrick of Manchester, Conn., fired two-under-par 70s in Monday's qualifying at the Pinehurst Country Club for co-medal honors.

Jury Decision Waited In Extortion Plot Case

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — A grand jury's decision is expected Wednesday in a case involving charges by two American League umpires that they were targets of an extortion plot.

One of the umpires, Bill McKinley, testified before the Anne Arundel County panel Monday.

McKinley and Ed Runge earlier told police two men and a night club dancer were involved in a plot to extort $2,000 from them.

Titano' Dorow Again AFL's Player Of Week

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Al Dorow of the New York Titans today became the first two-time winner of the American Football League's award for player of the week on offense.

The 186-pound quarterback was voted the honor by AFL writers for his performance in the Titans' 17-13 victory over the Buffalo Bills Sunday.

Dorow passed for one touchdown in the first period and then passed or rushed for all but six yards in a 80-yard drive that produced New York's winning TD.

He first won the award two weeks ago.

After Dawn Captures Feature Class C Pace

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—After Dawn, owned by Grace Angus of Delaware, Ohio, won the feature race for Class C pacers Monday night at Scioto Downs in 2:05 2-5.

Driven by Charles Angus, the 6-year-old gelding had little trouble after taking the early lead and won by a length over Mc's First. After Dawn returned $5.80.

Expediter, a 4-year-old gelding owned by Mrs. W. E. Flynn of Chillicothe, posted his first win in 35 starts in startling fashion as a 30-1 shot in another Class C pace.

4 Employes To Face Trial In Strike Case

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — Four employees of Philip Carey Co. face separate jury trials in Municipal Court this week on charges of assault and battery stemming from strike violence last month. A fifth, Neil Blankenship, 18, Middletown, was convicted on a similar charge Monday by a jury. Judge J. T. Lamb did not sentence him immediately.

The United Auto Workers union went on strike against the plant Sept. 6 in a contract dispute.
